WEST ISLAND —
A day late and many dollars short.

Beth David, Publisher

Hot enough for ya?

Okay, if you're one of those people who think we can't complain about the heat because we complained about the cold....just jump down a paragraph or two. I reserve the right to complain about ALL extreme weather.

And, it has definitely been extreme.

We've got all kinds of good stuff in here this week. So much fun stuff is happening everywhere, it's hard to keep up with it. We've got movies and concerts, lectures and fish derbies, festivals and cookouts, all coming up, and most of them are free.

I could go on about a bunch of that stuff, but instead I want to note a very small listing on page 5. My neighbors had their jet ski stolen, and I've got to say, the neighbors around here are downright furious about it. This is a hardworking couple, with a couple of young children. Most of us around here have been watching as the kids get older. Matt and Marianne are trying to raise their kids to love this place the way we all do, to believe that people are basically good and fun, and to be open and honest kids.

How the hell do you explain to them how some low-life-loser-piece-of-crap can just drive up to the yard and steal their jet ski?

Most of us work hard for our money in these parts. We buy our toys to add some fun and adventure to our lives, and to show the kids that working hard has its rewards.

Honestly, I hope I do not come face to face with the creep who stole the jet ski, I might just bop him (or her) in the nose. At least, he'd get a piece of my mind anyway.

The listing on page 5 offers a reward for the return of the jet ski. What's not in the listing is that another jet ski was also stolen from a house on the island at the same time. It seems that it was a concerted, planned effort, by people with vehicles that had hitches ready to go.

It is disheartening on so many levels. You should be able to leave stuff in your own yard without it all being locked down like some neighborhood on the verge of a riot. It would be great if they got their jet skis back, but the damage to the psyche around here is already done.

Speaking of hard work, I know you've all seen news articles about the newspaper industry and how the old models for surviving financially are changing.

The best way for a newspapers to stay solvent is with reader support. I hope you'll take a moment to consider how much you value the Neighb News. It's free to you, but it costs a lot for me to produce, and it takes up way too much time for me to have another job. So, I rely on my advertisers, and my readers who donate.

So, please, take a moment to give what you can so we can keep publishing. We are on a very, very thin shoestring, here, so any amount will help.

You can give online through PayPal via a link on our website: www.NeighbNews.com

And, be sure to notice who our advertisers are and let them know you saw their ads in the Neighb News. And use their services, buy their products. They are all local companies, and the need your support, too.

Until next week then...see ya,

Selectboard signs Comcast Franchise agreement

By Beth David
Editor

At its meeting on 7/16, the Fairhaven Selectboard signed the Comcast Franchise agreement, although not without some pushback from Selectboard member Charles K. Murphy, Sr.

Fairhaven Town Administrator Mark Rees told the board that there were a few changes to the new contract, including that it was non-exclusive, so other providers could, conceivably, operate in Fairhaven. Mr. Rees cautioned the board, though, that it was unlikely another provider would come to town, because wireless is the wave of the future. He said the system of underground cables utilized by Comcast is cost prohibitive.

It is, however, allowed under the new contract.

Other changes include that the percentage paid to the town to support PEG (Public, Educational, and Government Access TV) is increased from 4% to 5%. Comcast will also pay the town $100,000 for PEG within 45 days, and $60,000 in 10 installments of $6,000 each year, for capital improvements, such as equipment and facilities.

Comcast will also return $70,000 that was supposed to be used for upgrades that the town will now take over, using funds appropriated at Town meeting. The town will use part of the $70K for those improvements.

Mr. Murphy voiced his hesitation to signing the contract, noting that the senior discount was only $2, and also noting that there was no provision for place like nursing homes or the housing authority to get favorable rates for residents.

Mr. Murphy said he thought it was a typo when he read the two dollars.

"Wow," said Mr. Murphy. "I'm not happy about that."

Selectboard member Bob Espindola, who is on the Cable Advisory Committee and worked on the contract, said the town had "no negotiating power," on the senior discount. It does not belong in the contract, he said.

He said the nursing homes, large apartment buildings, and housing authority need to negotiate "bulk" packages, but the town cannot put those rates into the contract.

"They can negotiate a bulk contract, it's their option," he said.

Mr. Murphy pressed the issue, saying that New Bedford seems to have a better discount for seniors, and the nursing homes there have a good deal that Fairhaven should also get.

Mr. Espindola insisted that those things do not belong in the Franchise Agreement.

"Before signing, I need to know there's [going to] be a meeting with the Housing Authority and seniors," said Mr. Murphy.

Mr. Espindola noted that they were on a deadline to sign the contract, but said there would definitely be a meeting. Mr. Murphy was skeptical.

Mr. Espindola said that attorney William Solomon, who worked with the town to negotiate the contract, was away, but had said he would be available to call.

"Call him," said Mr. Murphy.

But, they could not raise him on the phone and bumped the discus-

Fairhaven girl sells lemonade to help Boston Children's Hosp.

By Beth David
Editor

Jaylen Lussier is a girl on a mission. Ever since she had her tonsils out at Boston Children's Hospital when she was six, the nine-year-old has wanted to help the other children she met there.

"I saw a lot of sick kids there," said Ms. Lussier. "The kids were very sick and needed things, so I wanted to help them."

She settled on lemonade, and has been selling the refreshing beverage all around town, with all proceeds going to BCH.

She started out at her house, and got discovered by John Appleton of Mahoney's Building Supply, who promptly invited Jaylen to set up shop there. So, they became mobile, said Jaylen's dad Jarrod.

He said the person who ran the yard at Mahoney's sent all the contractor's to Jaylen's stand, and they were very generous. They also got a matching donation, bringing her total to $1,080 just that day. So far, they have raised well over $2,000.

They also went to Trezn salon, which is owned by a family member, and have been to a few other places. The Neighb News caught up with the moving target at the Outdoor Movie Night on Saturday.

Jaylen's friend Tori was with her on Saturday. She said that she knew about the effort and decided to help her do it because it's a good cause.

Ms. Lussier tries to have a friend with her at each selling day, and a parent, of course. But her father said he does not want to book her for every weekend.

"We (he and his wife Brandy) want her to still be a kid," he said.

Mr. Lussier said that it was all Jaylen's idea, and both her parents were "overwhelmed" by her sympathy and empathy.

"My kid is so awesome," said Mr. Lussier. "We're just so proud of her. She has the biggest heart."

Atria chef wins at annual Chef Showdown

Press Release

Atria Fairhaven challenged Our Lady's Haven of Fairhaven and Community Nurse Home Care of Fairhaven, to a cooking competition as part of Atria Senior Living's annual Chef Showdown, which is taking place at Atria communities across the U.S. and Canada.

There was one rule that all chefs had to follow: all recipes required tomatoes. The competition was judged by a large panel of residents from Atria Fairhaven. The judges did not know what chef made which plate until the winner was named. The competition was fierce any way the chefs sliced it! The votes were very close for the count but the winner was Chef Roger from Atria Fairhaven!

Atria Senior Living's Chef Showdown demonstrates our passion for cooking delicious and nutritious meals that help our residents live healthy, active lives while showing off our culinary skills. We also believe people belong together. That's why we continuously look for partnerships and opportunities that allow our residents to engage with the broader community outside the walls of our buildings — with the goal of creating fun, rewarding events for everyone involved. ●●●

West Island Gear gets its own little spot: Up The Hill Boutique

By Beth David
Editor

West Island Gear, which, as you might expect, includes all kinds of useful summer stuff like t-shirts and baseball caps, has also traditionally included a few good sweatshirts for those cool summer nights at the fire, and other items with the West Island moniker on them.

But in the last few years, West Island Gear, that was only available from a fold-out table at the West Island Improvement Association breakfasts, and one or two other events, has evolved thanks to a concerted effort to get creative, with designs, items, and venue.

Taken over by Marianne Brodo (with the blessing of her husband Matt and her two young'uns Chloe and Oliver), the variety of items has expanded, the number of graphic designs to choose from has expanded, and the single fold-out table has expanded into a full-fledged mini-boutique. Ms. Brodo, with the help of her contractor husband and other WIIA volunteers, transformed a closet into a light-filled, airy space that can permanently house the items for sale.

It means that items can be sold at all WIIA events at the community center, which is situated up the hill, at 40 Causeway Road. Hence, "Up the Hill Boutique" was born.

The layout is that of a high-fashion store, albeit on a small footprint. It is, however, rather amazing how much merchandise fits into the small space.

HAPPENINGS OVERTOWN

Business Bootcamp

Interise South Coast Business Bootcamp starts in the fall. Are you a small business owner and in need of a boost? Do you want to learn how to work smarter not harder?

Do you have a strategic vision of where you would like your business to be in three years?

We can get you there.

Every business has a story: YOURS. At Interise, we can help you build a stronger one, one business at a time.

You will be a part of a diverse group of CEOs who, no matter if they own a restaurant or an insurance agency, all share similar challenges. In a confidential setting, you will share with peers who face similar obstacles and hear how they overcome them.

Business owners are constantly learning, finding new ways to operate, discovering unique ways to keep their services wanted, products in demand, and their cash flows flowing. Some owners don't take the time to pursue education and professional development, and many pay a dear price. Failing to put in a few hours a week can be the difference between growth and financial loss.

Program starts October 23rd at the Quest Center, New Bedford and meets for 13 sessions from 5:00 - 8:00 pm twice a month. Limited to 15 Small Business Owners.

To apply: Please contact Elizabeth

Howe; ehowe@interise.org for an interview.

Thurs., 7/26, 6 p.m. 619 Purchase St., New Bedford (cookout to follow). Visit www.lift-on-love.org, find us on Facebook, or call 508-264-8211.

NB Ballet

Join us for New Bedford Ballet's summer performance, A Patchwork of Dance, on Fri., 8/3, at 5:30 and 7:00 p.m., and Sat., 8/4, at 1:00 and 2:30 p.m. at the NBB Community Theatre, 2343 Purchase St. New Bedford. The approximately one-hour program will feature a children's ballet, "Nana's Quilt," as well as originally choreographed works performed by advanced students. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for seniors, students and children. All proceeds support the New Bedford Ballet, a non-profit organization.

"Nana's Quilt" is entertainment for the entire family. Nana weaves the story of her childhood into a charming ballet as she relates the history of a very special quilt to her granddaughter. The company's young dancers interpret Nana's personal history through dance in a story that both young and old can appreciate.

For 33 years New Bedford Ballet has continued its mission of providing classical ballet training for children and adults, granting scholarships, and educating the community on the value of the performing arts.

Alzheimer's Pres.

Memory and thinking disorders – do you wonder about your family member or friend? Do you worry about yourself? Our memories are a gift from years of experiences, relationships and wonders. When we forget, is it stress, too much going on, or could it be more than that? How do we really know early on? Can we know?

Join us at an informational session by the Massachusetts Alzheimer's Disease Research Center (MADRC) and the Center for Alzheimer's Research and Treatment Center (CART), which will include the research being done and how you, or someone you know, may qualify to be part of a study for people concerned about their memory and thinking, and people diagnosed with mild cognitive impairment and early Alzheimer's disease.

Recipe of the Week

Clams Creole (quahogs)

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions, white part only
- 1/2 c finely chopped bell pepper
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1/4 cup white wine
- 1 (10 ounce) can diced tomatoes with green chile peppers
- 2 pounds fresh cherrystone or littleneck clams, scrubbed

Heat oil in a pot large enough to hold clams, over med. heat. Add the onions, green pepper, celery and garlic; and cook, stirring until tender, about 5 minutes.

Stir in the can of tomatoes with green chilies, wine and clams. Turn the heat up to medium-high, cover the pot, and cook for 5 to 8 minutes, or just until all of the clams have opened. Remove from heat immediately.

Serve over linguine with crusty bread to sop up the juice!

Hundreds attend movie night at Livesey Park

By Beth David
Editor

An estimated 400+ people of all ages showed up to enjoy Disney's Coco at Fairhaven's annual outdoor movie night at Livesey Park on Saturday, 7/21. People from all around the region spread out blankets, set up lawn chairs, and even bean bags to watch the movie on a 30-foot screen.

Before the show started at precisely 8:15 p.m., children and their adults enjoyed, a bounce house, bouncy slide, face painting, food at the concession stand, lemonade and smoothies, candy, watermelon, and, of course, popcorn. Tori Kalisz, Miss New Bedford's Outstanding Teen, and Miss Bristol County Outstanding Teen Emma Guillotte danced with the children to the tunes of a DJ before the movie started.

Cousins Jazleen and Izaiah made sure to enjoy a smoothie and some popcorn before the movie, after they checked out the other activities, including face painting. Jazleen said she liked the bounce house the best. Izaiah said he had seen the movie before and his favorite part was the main character becoming a ghost, but not a skeleton, which meant he could come back to the world of the living. The annual event began in 2012, when the Outdoor Movie Night was held as part of Fairhaven's Bicentennial festivities and it turned out to be the most popular event. Organizers decided to make it annual.

This year's event was funded by a mini grant from The United Way of Greater New Bedford, donations from BRW Properties, Fairhaven Improvement Association, North Fairhaven Improvement Association, East Fairhaven Improvement Association, Rotary Club of Fairhaven, BayCoast Bank and private donations.

Teddy Bear Parade

Don't miss the Millicent Library's 34th annual Teddy Bear Parade on Wed., 8/1, from 10 a.m. until noon. Bring your bears and lunch. We'll provide juice boxes and Teddy Graham cookies. Daisy D. Dots will be on hand to paint faces. The parade marks the end of the Library's summer reading program.

Join us on Fri., 7/27, from 2:30-4:30 when Dr. Toby Dills will be here for his well-loved bottle rockets program. We'll build our rockets downstairs in the meeting room at 2:30 and then go across to launch them at the Unitarian Church lawn. Don't forget to bring at least two 2-liter soda bottles for your rocket.

The last Teen Tuesday will be on 7/31 at 2:30, and we will need helpers for both Bottle Rockets and the Teddy Bear Parade.

WIIA Movie nights

The West Island Improvement Association hosts Classic Movie Night Series this summer. Join us at the WIIA Community House, 41 Causeway Rd., Fairhaven, on the following dates and times to watch and discuss the following films:

- Thurs., 7/26: Rebecca
- Thurs., 8/2: The Hasty Heart

ADMISSION IS FREE
6 p.m.: Light refreshments and snacks will be available for sale.

7 pm: Films will begin, WITH introductory comments, with a discussion after the film.

Donations to the WIIA welcome.

Huttleston Marketplace

Looking for locally produced products from the southcoast area? Trying to support local businesses within the community? Want to enjoy live music while you shop? Searching for something fun for the entire family?

Find the answer to these questions at the Huttleston Marketplace, Fairhaven's very own outdoor bazaar, featured every Saturday at the Fairhaven Visitor's Center Lawn, 141 Main Street at Rte. 6 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., showcasing various vendors from throughout the southcoast. Held rain or shine through September 1.

The Huttleston Marketplace showcases the best of local businesses, selling handmade arts and crafts, quality antiques and vintage collectibles, used books, and locally grown or prepared produce and foods. Delicious bites from locals include baked goods, fresh homemade guacamole, locally produced honey and farm produce.

Enjoy live musical performances in the early afternoons. During the Marketplace, the Fairhaven Historical Society's free Museum in the Academy Building will be open to the public.

For an updated list of 2018 vendors, visit <http://fairhaventours.com/huttleston-vendors-2018/>.

Acushnet fighting drug risks with two new products

The Acushnet Fire & EMS Department is continuing its fight against opioid abuse and other dangers associated with drug use and abuse.

The department has just acquired a sharps destruction machine, which destroys syringes and other needles used for drug use, diabetes testing, and other medical reasons. Resident may take their sharps, still in the proper containers, to the EMS division at 60 Middle Road in Acushnet to have their sharps disposed of for free.

"All we ask is that the needles be turned in directly to our staff in a plastic container, preferably a red 'sharps' container," wrote the department on its Facebook page. "If you don't have any, we do, thanks to the Acushnet Board of Health. These will also be distributed free of charge. Used needles anywhere is a safety risk. By offering this service to Acushnet residents we hope to make your home, and our community, a safer place to be."

Needles may be dropped off any day between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sharps include syringes, the new safety needles, pen needles and finger testing needles.

The department has also received a donation of thousands of drug deactivation pouches, which allow residents to safely dispose of medications. The pouches contain carbon that deactivates the drug when mixed with water. Then the pouch can be disposed of in the regular trash.

ACUSH: cont'd from page 16

Simply throwing pills away has resulted in many water sources in the country being contaminated with a variety of drugs, affected the water, fish, and the wildlife and humans that rely on the water source.

In Acushnet, pouches are available in Town Hall with the Town Clerk and Veterans Agent, at the Library, Council on Aging and the Police Department. The Acushnet Farmer's Market will have pouches available on Saturdays.

Fire Chief Kevin Gallagher refers to those in the effort to fight opioid addiction as the "purple army." As many know, the lawn of the Acushnet Fire Department is ringed with purple flags, in honor of those who have overdosed on drugs. He has said if you paint every person who has been affected by drug addiction the color purple, there would be far to many purple people.

The department is looking for ways to distribute the pouches, so residents are encouraged to call if they have an appropriate event coming up, 508-998-0250.

"We will gladly make these drug deactivation pouches available free of charge," said the Chief in a statement on the departments Facebook page. "We must act locally. Working as a community we can reduce the number of purple people, and purple flags on our lawn!" ●●●

FAR LEFT: This machine destroys "sharps," such as syringes and finger testing needles for diabetics. Residents may take their sharps, in an appropriate container to the Acushnet Fire Department for disposal. LEFT: This drug deactivation pouch allows residents to make their drugs inactive and safe for disposal in the regular trash. They are available in a number of sites in the area and at the Acushnet Fire & EMS Department.

Dr. Hinohara remembered on anniversary of his death

It is with heartfelt affection and immense gratitude that the Whitfield-Manjiro Friendship Society notes the one year anniversary (July 18, 2017) of the passing of our incredible benefactor, Dr. Shigeaki Hinohara, late President of St. Luke's hospital in Tokyo, Japan.

His fame was known in many parts of the world long before he took on the task of saving the home of Captain William Whitfield who rescued Manjiro (Nakahama) in 1841 and brought him back to Fairhaven for his first schooling ever. The house is now known as the Whitfield-Manjiro Friendship House Museum and has hosted more than 6,000 visitors

Dr. Shigeaki Hinohara, 100, in 2012. File photo by Beth David.

(approximately 70% Japanese) since its opening on May 7, 2009.

The spirit of Dr. Hinohara dwells therein and joins us as we convey the particulars of the long-enduring relationships between the Nakahama and Whitfield families and the strong bonds of grass-roots friendship shared by two cultures separated by half of the globe.

Dr. Hinohara's legacy is part of every friendly relationship that is initiated or strengthened within the museum. May he rest in peace.

Gerry Rooney, President & CEO, WMFS

When they resumed the discussion, Mr. Espindola referred to a "side letter" that Mr. Solomon wrote, explaining about bulk rates and contracts.

Mr. Rees explained that the contract was the thing needing to be signed, not the $2 discount for seniors.

In typical fashion, Ms. Brodo solicited ideas for the name from other West Islanders, just as she does for new designs on shirts and other items, and as she does for introducing new items.

"This project has really taken on a life of its own," said Ms. Brodo. "I've had great support from the WIIA board and West island Residents."

All proceeds go to the WIIA. It is a purely volunteer effort by Ms. Brodo.

Items that have been introduced in just the last few years include a sweatshirt with a koozie built in (and a bottle opener, of course); lap tech t's, blankets, key chains, bags, mugs and more. Most items have the West Island name and a nautical theme.

"I understand," said Mr. Murphy, but insisted on getting a "guarantee" that the meeting with the senior groups and Comcast will happen.

"I will guarantee it," said Mr. Espindola. "I will personally guarantee that we have that meeting."

The meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, 7/31, at the Oxford Terrace community room, 275 Main Street. •••

So the next time you head out to a West Island Improvement Association event, be sure to budget a few extra dollars for your West Island Gear, so you can remember the summer season all year long.

The next breakfast is on Sunday, 8/7, and the WIIA hosting a pig roast this Sunday, 7/29 (see page 5 for details).

NEXT CLAMBOIL

Sunday, 7/29 • 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Expecting Visitors?

Treat them to a Scoticut Neck clamboil, a long standing traditional Sunday meal. These events date back to the Colonial times and Native Americans before that. Our sell-out clamboils are also available for take-out and catering.

Think Mac's Custom Catering when planning your next summertime party event. We are well known for reliability, integrity, quality and precise attention to detail. We are always ready to accommodate your catering or take-out needs. We will do it your way!

Have you tried our quahog chowder? The stuffed quahogs? They are made from an old favorite Scoticut Neck recipe. At last count, a quarter million sold!

We hope you all are enjoying this fine summer season.
