First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Judge Murray Gurfein, Pentagon Papers case, June 17, 1971:

"The security of the Nation is not at the ramparts alone. Security also lies in the value of our free institutions. A cantankerous press, an obstinate press, a ubiquitous press must be suffered by those in authority in order to preserve the even greater values of freedom of expression and the right of the people to know."

WEST ISLAND —
A day late and many dollars short.

Beth David, Publisher

Well, My Faithful Readers, I didn't hit the lottery, so I'm back. We are beginning year 15 with this week's little miracle.

Hard to believe, isn't it?

This year starts with a rather awkward deadline situation because New Year's Day is on Wednesday. So, we don't have the plunge on the cover. We'll get that for next week.

Meanwhile, we've got some news from while we were on our break. The Old Time Holiday celebration was lots of fun, and brought some Christmas magic to the center of town. People were walking around with packages, and bustling from place to place that had vendor booths set up...just like in the movies. All the while, the UU church bells rang out Christmas Carols. (See page 12.)

It's quite the event. If you missed it, be sure to put it on your calendar for next year. You don't have to buy anything, you can just hang out, or buy a hot chocolate and just watch the bustle. It'll help your Christmas spirit kick in.

We also have some meeting coverage for you this week. See page 4 for the Selectboard meeting.

Coming up is the Moby-Dick Marathon (see page 3). I usually go really late at night when just the die-hards are there. This year, though, I may try to get there during the day when all the VIPs are around. The late night crew, though....ah, that's special. Also, note that Culture*Park will do a live performance of chapter 40 at 7 p.m. on Saturday. That is also a great experience.

The Moby-Dick Marathon is something very much our own. It's very New Bedford as we like to say in these parts. People from all walks of life read parts of the book. Remember, though, that the New Bedford Harbor only has New Bedford on one side; Fairhaven is on the other side. It's our harbor, too.

So, as events now are not quite as numerous as the summer, keep an eye on these pages. We have plenty of listings coming up to keep you busy in the cold months.

And be sure to note who our advertisers are and let them know you saw their ads in the Neighb News.

Here's to 2020!

Until next week then, see ya...

Selectboard to make deal with WIIA on Causeway Road beach

By Beth David*
Editor

The Fairhaven Selectboard met with residents and representatives of the West Island Improvement Association on Monday, 12/16/19, to discuss the ongoing dispute about ownership of the beach on Causeway Road.

Selectboard chairperson Charles K. Murphy, Sr., read a letter from the WIIA asking the board to reconsider its decision not to pursue the clearing of the title on the beach. In the letter, the WIIA said that the record reflects that the town did not intend to take the north side when they took the beach for back taxes, a point that the town disputes. The town contends that it intended to take the whole parcel, which includes beaches on the north and south sides of Causeway Road.

Town Counsel Thomas Crotty explained that the situation arose when the town was looking for a piece of town property to swap for the parkland being used for the Oxford School project. During that search, the town discovered that there was a question about the title on the Causeway Road beach that has been used as a public beach for many years, and is posted as a public beach maintained by the Board of Public Works.

The town sent a letter to Dan Ristuccia who owned the parcel when it was taken for back taxes. Mr. Ristuccia decided he wanted to get the property back and give it to the WIIA for members to use.

Meanwhile, the town found another piece of property to swap for the Oxford project.

The board decided not to pursue the clearing of the title.

However, the WIIA and Mr. Ristuccia had retained an attorney who has been actively working to get the property back to Mr. Ristuccia and the WIIA.

Mr. Crotty told the board at the meeting that the town had no need to clear the title on the beach property.

He said the WIIA and Mr. Ristuccia can go ahead and do that, but the town should not spend money to do it because they do not need it.

"We don't have a dog in that race," said Mr. Crotty.

He said if the WIIA wants to pursue it, they can, and the town will respond.

Attorney Matthew J. Thomas, representing the WIIA, had a different opinion on the matter.

He said it was clear that the town made a mistake, and that it does not own the north side beach.

Mr. Thomas said his clients are willing to give the town the south side, but a subdivision plan will have to be created.

There is some confusion on whether the parcel is considered one piece or two.

Mr. Thomas promised to pursue the matter fully, and said it would end up costing the town a lot of money.

A purchase and sale agreement had been all set, he said, when the town backed out.

The deal would end up with the WIIA owning the property, and it would no longer be used a public beach.

Mr. Thomas said, however, that the association and Mr. Ristuccia want the beach to be open for use by West Island residents.

"This is not a public beach," said Mr. Thomas. "It is private property."

He said there was never a foreclosure done on the property.

"The town is not losing a public beach property," he said.

The beach has been posted as public, however, for several years, and has been used for decades by residents.

Selectboard member Daniel Freitas said he had wanted to know if people could use the beach. He said he would get calls and he wanted to know what he was agreeing to.

Selectboard member Bob Espindola said he wanted to know who would be restricted from using the beach if the WIIA owned it.

Lisa Esten, President of the WIIA, said that the south side would be town owned, so the general public could use that side.

WIIA member David Hickox said that the problem was created when the town took the land, he said they did not intend to take the north side.

Mr. Crotty said that it was not at all clear that the town did not own the piece. He said the town took the whole lot, and there has been no ambiguity there for 15 years. He said Mr. Ristuccia thought the town owned it for 15 years and now they are "latching onto some scribbles" on the title.

Mr. Crotty noted that there are a lot of costs associated with a subdivision plan and other aspects of Mr. Thomas's proposals.

Mr. Thomas said that he sent over two proposals, and there were two sticking points: One, that the board wanted the beach to be public, but, he said, that's "not going to happen."

He said the public works department has since said they can do the plan, and everyone would pay their own lawyers fees. He offered to send the proposal again to Mr. Crotty.

"Sounds like a great idea," said Mr. Freitas, adding that he was favoring the idea of giving the beach to the WIIA.

Mr. Espindola however was not so sure. He said people have been using the beach for years and might suddenly be restricted. He said he was not ready support it.

Mr. Murphy, who is a member of the WIIA as a "friend" because he does not live on West Island, was appointed to negotiate with the WIIA. The board will discuss it at the next meeting, which is scheduled for 1/13. The next court day is 1/14, but that will likely be changed.

HAPPENINGS OVERTOWN

Auditions

Your Theatre, Inc. is holding auditions on Sun., 1/5, at 5 p.m. for all roles in A Raisin in the Sun by Lorraine Hansberry. The performance has yet to be scheduled and this audition is to explore casting possibilities.

Director Margo Wilson-Ruggiero is looking at casting all roles. There are 10 people in the cast, 4 female and 6 male, with ages ranging from 18 to 68.

Auditions are held in the playhouse in St. Martin's Church/Hall complex, 136 Rivet Street, at County Street, in New Bedford. Auditions consist of a cold reading from the script.

The play debuted on Broadway in 1959 and was inspired by the poem "Harlem" (also known as "A Dream Deferred") by Langston Hughes. The drama focuses on a working-class African-American family living in Chicago in the 1950's. Race, identity, family, and the American Dream are put under the microscope as the Younger family tries to build a better life for themselves and for future generations. The play opens with Mama, the family's matriarch waiting for a $10,000 insurance check from the death of her husband, and the drama focuses primarily on how the money should be spent.

Male Characters:

Walter Lee Younger: African American, age 35-45, a dreamer, lean, intense, somewhat erratic and quick to anger, able to dance and move.

Travis Younger: African American, age 8-14, well spoken, intelligent, respectful yet spirited.

Joseph Asagai: Nigerian, age 18-28, frank speaking with intelligence and charm, very proud of his African heritage (will also play a moving man in the final scene) Should have a Nigerian accent.

George Murchison: African American, age 18-28, wealthy from the black upper class, a bit snobbish but generally respectful and polite (will also play a moving man in the final scene.)

Bobo: African American, age 28-40, nervous, fidgety, frightened, not bright (will also play a moving man in the final scene.)

Karl Lindner: Caucasian, age 45-60, business man type with salesman-like charm until the mask drops.

Female Characters:

Lena Younger or Mama: African American, age 55-60, strong character, religious, moral and determined. Good carriage, soft voice except when angered. (Despite being described as a soft voice the actress must be able to project to be heard.)

Beneatha Younger: African American, age 18-28, lean, attractive, educated, ambitious, can dance and move.

Ruth Younger: African American, age 30-40, attractive practical woman beginning to be worn down by her situation.

Mrs. Johnson: African American, any age, the nosy neighbor, judgmental.

Experience is not necessary; just the desire to participate and share the experience of live theatre and the enjoyment of collaborating with other talented individuals.

Science Cafe

Science Cafe, Tues., 1/7, 6-8 p.m..
Free, Greasy Luck Brewpub, 791 Purchase St., New Bedford. Open to everyone! Free, except for beer and food! If possible, come early & place an order. The Vault Room starts serving food/drink at 5:45.

Program: "Face Value; Why the science behind facial and emotion recognition technology is flawed."

We're pleased to announce that our next guest will be Jennifer Fugate, Ph.D., a social-cognitive psychologist and assistant professor at the University of Mass. Dartmouth.

Emotion detection by means of Artificial Intelligence is a $20 billion industry. Companies such as Microsoft and IBM advertise that they have software that can "analyze facial expressions" and "match them to certain emotion categories," a golden goose for any group wanting to read peoples' intentions.

Jen will explain why companies making these claims are wrong. Of note, due to her expertise in emotion & facial perception, and her skills as a certified Facial Action Coding System (FACS) coder, she served as a consultant for Malcolm Gladwell and his latest book Talking With Strangers. She helped him understand, among other things, why we easily fail to read each other's bodily cues and why miscommunication is such a common occurrence.

YTI Production

Your Theatre, Inc. director Eric R. Paradis of Fairhaven has cast several Southcoast area actors in the fun-filled The Gingerbread Lady by Neil Simon. This is the third major production of the 73rd Season, and is supported in part by a grant from Bristol County Savings Bank.

In the wake of Neil Simon's passing in 2018, what better way to celebrate his work than to stage one of his most uncommon gems, a dark comedy that finds the humor in life's biggest challenges. Our lead, Evy, has experienced her fair share of challenges, including a recent rehab stint, yet manages to take us on a ride of humorous proportions! Weaving through fast-paced scenes of the 1960's New York social scene, Evy must navigate her daughter's straight-laced leanings, her best friend's struggles with vanity, and the desperation of her washed up actor friend, Jimmy, who tries to find a new "off-stage" normal. Meanwhile, her ex-lover throws yet more fuel to the fire before a tragic and touching ending that keeps you laughing through life's curveballs.

The cast includes Nicholas Anderson of Taunton, Ryan Durkay of Fall River, Caroline Paradis and Carol Oliva of Fairhaven, Lauren Costa of Dartmouth, and R. J. Strangis of New Bedford. The production is stage managed by Brienne Riccio of Dartmouth, with costumes and settings by Mark P. Fuller, lighting design by Lawrence R. Houbre, Jr., of New Bedford, and with sound design by William Smith of Dartmouth.

Performance dates are January 9, 10, 11, 12, and 16, 17, 18, 19, 2020. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. for all performances except the 2:30 p.m. Sunday matinees. Performances are

Christmas Pageant

The Solstice Singers present "Sing We Noël," a pageant of carols and songs, instrumental music, drama and dance in the style of the Renaissance, on the 11th day of Christmas, Sat., 1/4, at 4:00 p.m. at the First Unitarian Universalist Society of Middleborough at 25 South Main Street. The concert is followed by a Hearty Soup & Dessert Supper plus raffles. Snow date: 1/5

The UU Middleboro church is accessible to people with disabilities. Suggested donation is $20 general admission and $40 Family Plan for 1 or 2 adults with school-age children. Tickets may be purchased at the door. For more information and reservations, please call the church office at 508-947-1935.

Performed in colorful, period costumes, the program is a celebration of Christmas and the winter Solstice, woven around the symbolism of trees and nature. The Solstice Singers will be joined by members of Ensemble Passacaglia, performing on beautiful period instruments including strings, winds and percussion. In addition to accompanying the singers, Passacaglia will perform instrumental music throughout the program. Passacaglia was formed in 2001 to accompany the Solstice Singers and has been a key ingredient in programs ever since. Like the Solstice Singers, Passacaglia balances historical authenticity with contemporary vitality and freshness.

This year's show features holiday music that ranges from the contemplative to the downright rowdy. The program contains a mummings' play, in which life is struck down by forces of evil (representing winter) only to spring to life again at the hands of a magical healer (representing rebirth in the spring). This year's play is written by Lisa Jo Rudy, Falmouth playwright and director, with a topical contemporary theme.

Evening of Illumination

Tour the historic Old Sturbridge Village lit only by candles, oil lamps, lanterns, and firelight! On Fri., 1/17 and Fri., 1/31. Guided tours limited to 15 people leave from the Visitor Center every 10 minutes from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. Register for a specific time at <https://www.osv.org/event/evening-of-illumination/>

Cost: $35/person ($30 for members) NOTE: Purchase of an evening program is separate from daytime admission. The museum is not open for daytime visits on these dates. Tickets are non-refundable.

In order to deliver the best experience for all of our guests, we request that you arrive at least 10-15 minutes before the start of your tour time. Tours are approximately 90 minutes long. This program is recommended for ages 10 and up.

How did New England families spend their evenings before the intrusion of texting, telephones, TVs and computers? Visitors to Old Sturbridge Village will get a rare chance find out as they tour the historic Village lit only by candles, oil lamps, lanterns, and firelight during Old Sturbridge Village's "Evening of Illumination." Guided by lantern light around the Village Common, guests visit select homes and shops to see how early New Englanders spent their evenings in the days before electricity. Visitors will be treated to music and storytelling throughout the tour, and will see Village artisans at work by candlelight.

Following the tours, visitors return to the Bullard Tavern for light refreshments, mulled cider, and a cash bar. Advance registration is recommended as this event historically sells out.

According to Old Sturbridge Village historians, early New Englanders stayed warm and productive during the fall and winter despite dwindling daylight and long hours of darkness. With light and heat coming only from candles, oil lamps, lanterns, and fireplaces, 19th-century families gathered around the fire and played music, games, or listened quietly as someone read aloud by candlelight. In contrast, today's hectic schedules rarely allow for quiet time like this in the evening, unless the power goes out in a snowstorm.

New strings shop to open in Fairhaven

Don't fret about frets, Fairhaven. "Fairhaven Frets," a shop selling all stringed instruments is poised to open any day now.

Owner Bryon Knight has been in the musical field in different capacities since he was 11 years old. His background includes playing in bands, repairing fretted instruments, and running his own shop in Little Rock, Arkansas, for more than 10 years. In total, he has more than 40 years of experience in repair, sales and service of stringed instruments.

Mr. Knight moved to the area this summer, where his wife Frances is a native.

"I found a hole in the market," said Mr. Knight. "So I thought I'd open a little itty bitty shop and see what happens."

The new shop has guitars, banjos, mandolins, dulcimers, and many surprises.

The shop will have everything you need for your stringed instruments and a variety of supplies for other instruments.

He welcomes his customers to visit and play the used instruments on the wall, enjoy a cup of coffee, and hang out for a bit.

He wants to be more than a place where people buy supplies. He wants to create a community center for musicians from all over the south coast.

Fairhaven Frets is located at 105 Scoticut Neck Road, Fairhaven, MA 02719; phone, 508-433-FRET (3738).

Email Mr. Knight at bryon@fairhavenfrets.com.

And be sure to visit the website at <https://fairhavenfrets.com>, and read his blog to learn more about him and his shop.

Old Time Holiday warms the center

By Beth David
Editor

Fairhaven's Old Time Holiday celebration spread Christmas cheer throughout the center of town on Saturday, 12/14/19. The center looked like an old time movie, with shoppers walking around with their treasures (hmm....is that a song or a movie?), as the church bells of the Unitarian church rang out Christmas carols. All combining to create quite the festive atmosphere.

It was a little rainy for most of the day, but not enough to scare away the masses. People simply grabbed some hot chocolate or cool cider to take with them as they walked.

Most vendors said they did very well at the holiday shops in Town Hall, which is where the non-profits had their tables.

The Unitarian Church and the First Congregational Church also had vendor tables and food, giving shoppers a variety and a chance to move around. The Millicent Library also held its annual book fair featuring local authors.

The Old Time Holiday celebration is a program of the Fairhaven Office of Tourism. For information on next year's event or other events throughout the year, call 508-979-4085, visit www.fairhaventours.com, or email FairhavenTours@fairhaven-ma.gov.

Sing-Along moves indoors, but still sings

Fairhaven's annual Town Hall Sing-Along moved indoors due to rain on Saturday, 12/14/19, but that did not stop the participants from having lots of fun in the Town Hall auditorium. In addition to singing Christmas carols led by members of Voices in Time, the event included hot chocolate and cookies, and a visit from Santa himself. ABOVE LEFT: Despite being moved indoors due to the weather, spirits are high as sisters Brooke and Braley from Voices in Time, with Miss New Bedford Outstanding Teen Juliette Simmons and Mashpee Powow Princess Alana Helme, lead the children in holiday songs during the annual Town Hall Sing-Along on 12/14/19, in Fairhaven. ### Give your opinion on the Route 6 Corridor study Residents, business owners and public officials should learn about and comment on the SRPEDD Route 6 study (Fairhaven to Wareham) currently in the public hearing phase.

On Dec 11, 2019, SRPEDD presented four alternative strategies for developing this important, historic and scenic road so it meets the region's needs decades into the future. Another hearing will happen Monday, January 6, 2020, from 6-8 p.m., at Sippican Elementary School 16 Spring Street Marion, MA 02738

SRPEDD is looking for consensus in strategy based on numbers of lanes. None of the alternatives presented, however, appear to address concerns raised by residents in summer 2019.

Any alternative, as presented, is completely inadequate if implemented as a uniform strategy for all road segments in all Towns. This is because land use characteristics are different along the length of the road. Any strategy should be first and foremost context sensitive.

Residents should fill out comment cards and ask for a fifth, context sensitive strategy that demonstrates locations at regular intervals for crossing the road and walking alongside it while balancing vehicle user concerns, especially left hand turns and narrow shoulders. If this fifth strategy includes design exceptions to the standard guidelines, that's how it needs to be.

Please attend the Jan 6 meeting and/or contact SRPEDD (Email comment cards are available here:

<http://www.srpedd.org/Route-6-Corridor-Study#HowtoParticipate>. The address for all letters is c/o Jed Cornock, Project Manager, SRPEDD 88 Broadway Taunton, MA 02780 jcornock@srpedd.org

Please tell transportation planners at SRPEDD to offer a fifth, descriptive, context-sensitive strategy that obviously addresses resident concerns.

Submitted

Seventh graders in John Sladewski's photography class at Elizabeth Hastings Middle School partnered with seniors from the Fairhaven Council on Aging as part of an intergenerational service-learning project.

In November, 20 photography students and five senior citizens went on a field trip to Fort Phoenix to make photographs, then all returned to the classroom at EHMS to work on their digital photos.

The seniors and students shared stories while they worked on the images. The students taught the seniors basics in photography and how to use digital devices to shoot photos. Students also taught the seniors how to use Adobe Lightroom to edit, process, and print their photographs.

With the photos, the students created a photo montage measuring approximately 4x2.5 feet that they presented to the COA on December 16 during a ceremony with the partners and family members. The artwork will be permanently installed at the Council on Aging.
