First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Judge Murray Gurfein, Pentagon Papers case, June 17, 1971:

"The security of the Nation is not at the ramparts alone. Security also lies in the value of our free institutions. A cantankerous press, an obstinate press, a ubiquitous press must be suffered by those in authority in order to preserve the even greater values of freedom of expression and the right of the people to know."

From The Editor

WEST ISLAND —
A day late and many dollars short.

Oh, we have lots of fun stuff in here this week.

The Fishing Derby for the kids looks like it was lots of fun and everyone learned a little about fishing. See page 12 for than.

Acushnet is getting ready to sell one of its old buildings, the former Russell Memorial Library (see page 12), so they need to move some stuff. And by "stuff," I mean a monument that might weigh up to 60 tons, yeah, tons. I wasn't able to get the whole weight by press time, but the base alone is 30 tons. Yeah, tons.

How cool, huh? You go, Acushnet, you go. You sure knew how to build 'em in the day.

It will take a few days to move it, then a few weeks to install it in the new location. So, go check it out. But, hey, stay out of the way of the workers, okay?

Fairhaven has a new robot to clean up the waters. How cool is that? We're going high tech around here. But, the little guy needs a name. See page 11 on how you can name the little gadget.

There's a bunch of other great stuff in here of course, and while you're looking through, be sure to tell our advertisers you saw their ads in the Neighb News.

Until next week, then, see ya,

PS: It's not libel if it's true. Everyone is protected by the First Amendment, not just journalists. And y'all need a thicker skin.

PPS: Oh, look. I made a mistake on a Romano statement and he didn't take to social media to whine like a little baby and accuse me of defaming his character. None of his relatives did, either. How positively grown up of them.

*Glory to Ukraine!
Glory to the Heroes!*

The Framers of the Constitution knew that free speech is the friend of change and revolution. But they also knew that it is always the deadliest enemy of tyranny.

CORRECTIONS/CLARIFICATIONS

In our Fairhaven Select Board story last week, we made a mistake in reporting on something Mr. Romano said. It should have read: "Mr. Romano said maybe so, but that does not make it a good policy to continue to follow."

We apologize for any confusion our error may have caused.

Acushnet moving huge war monument from old library

By Jonathan Comey

Neighb News Correspondent

The process of moving a decades old war memorial from the old Russell Library on Main Street in Acushnet was set into motion Tuesday, capping months of effort and planning.

Under the supervision of Matt Tripp, Acushnet's foreperson for public building maintenance, a team of contracted workers moved enormous pieces of the monument via crane to a flatbed.

"It's been a lot of moving parts getting this moving," Mr. Tripp said, noting that the monument would eventually find its new home at the Acushnet fire station. "It's a big process, definitely."

Town meeting voters approved a $60,000 outlay for the project last year, but Mr. Tripp said it was not easy finding the required three bids for the job despite the sizable budget. In the end, it was Kingston-based Colonial Stone that was selected for the project.

Owner Frank Drollett looked on as members of his crew and that of Eric's Crane Service of Whitman tried to puzzle out how to safely move the individual pieces and keep them intact.

It will be broken down into 13 or 14 pieces.

After about two hours, the top of the monument had been disassembled and prepared for the voyage on the flatbed just a few hundred feet up Main Street to the fire station.

But the bigger task is still to come: moving the large slabs that served as the base of the Civil War tribute, which Mr. Drollett estimated weighed as much as 30 tons.

"That will definitely require a bigger crane," he said with a grin, noting that those machines cost well over a million dollars. He estimated that the project would be completed in 4-6 weeks.

Information on when the monument was placed at the site was not available by press time, but everyone agrees it has been there for

Short Plays Marathon is back and looking for plays

Press Release

Culture*Park Theatre in New Bedford, Massachusetts, is calling for submissions of new plays for the 20th Short Plays Marathon, scheduled for Saturday, November 22, 2025.

This year, the Marathon will be at the Steeple Playhouse in downtown New Bedford, MA, and will feature 25 new plays, by local, regional and global playwrights presented as staged readings. Playwright Panels punctuate the Short Plays Marathon, allowing for brief exchanges between audience and playwrights.

Plays by seasoned playwrights, new writers, and students are welcome. This year's Marathon will also feature plays by playwrights from Climate Change Theatre Action, a global platform, responding to the theme, "The Time is Now."

The interval for play submissions began on June 1, 2025, and the deadline for play submissions to reach Culture*Park is September 1, 2025. Plays will be read and selected by a committee of theater artists and writers. Selected plays will be posted on Culture*Park social media, and playwrights will be contacted.

The plays will be presented by an ensemble of actors and directors, on Saturday, November 22, 2025, from 2pm-10:00pm, at the Steeple Playhouse in downtown New Bedford, MA. Marathon Co-Directors are Patricia Thomas and Rebecca Schade and Marathon Committee associates include Fred Cabral of New York, Jim Sullivan of Providence, and Mirko Lopes of New Bedford.

Please note the following guidelines for submitting a play to the Short Plays Marathon 2025:

- Plays may be 1-15 minutes running time (15 pages or fewer)
- Please submit one copy to culturepark.ed@earthlink.net as a .pdf
- Submissions should be in "standard play format"
- Include a (separate) cover page with playwright name and contact information
- Include a brief synopsis of the play and character breakdown
- Please confirm your availability to attend the Marathon on November 22, 2025, and participate in a brief panel discussion about your play/process

- Plays with Regional, Contemporary and Climate Change themes are welcome; all plays are considered.

Please submit the play, cover page and synopsis at culturepark.ed@earthlink.net or to: Patty Thomas at culturepark@earthlink.net, with "Marathon Submission" as subject.

Submissions will be accepted until September 1, 2025.

For more info visit Culture*Park on facebook and Instagram...

Culture*Park Theatre is a collaborative entity of theatre and performing artists, community members and others who support the production and development of new works in theatre and dance, especially works with regional and culturally provocative themes. Over the past 19 "Marathons" Culture*Park has presented over 400 original short plays, many receiving further development, full production, and/or publication.

Auditions

The MAC Theater is auditioning for roles in the award-winning play, Proof, by David Auburn, directed by Richard Sherburne. Auditions will be held at the MAC Theater, located at 80 Pleasant St., Marion on Saturday, August 16, 2025 from 10am -12 pm and on Sunday, August 17 from 5-7 pm.

Catherine has been dealing with a lot. For four years, she has been the sole caretaker for her father, Robert, a genius mathematician who was dealing with mental illness. After his death, she's left wondering if her advanced penchant for mathematics indicates an inclination toward mental illness in herself. This concern is shared by her sister, Claire, who encourages her to leave her family home and live with her in New York. Along the way, Catherine becomes involved with Hal, one of her father's admirers and former students. Catherine is put in the position of proving that some of the mathematical genius left behind in Robert's office were actually her own work.

The available roles are: Catherine, 24, Claire, her sister, late 20s, Hal, Robert's former student, late 20s and Robert, a professor, 50s+. Auditions will consist of cold readings from the script. More information can be found at marionartcenter.org/auditions

I-195/Route 18 Interchange Rehabilitation Project

By Beth David
Editor

The Massachusetts Department of Transportation (MassDOT) has developed a Fact Sheet to raise awareness for their I-195/ Rt 18 Interchange Rehabilitation Project happening in New Bedford beginning this summer.

According to the Fact Sheet, the goal of the project is to address poor conditions on the aged structure, improve safety and mobility, and construct a noise barrier for community benefit.

The scope of this project entails:

- Replacing the I-195 viaduct bridge structure from County Street until just beyond the Route 18– Exit 15/ Acushnet Avenue Interchange

- Replacing deficient bridge piers and abutments
- Replacing ramp bridges
- Widening merge lanes and lengthening on- and off-ramps
- Repairing local streets and adjacent sidewalks impacted by construction
- Repairing the parking lot below the structure
- Constructing new stormwater drainage system for DOT infrastructure
- Constructing a noise barrier for community benefit
- Constructing a new landscaped park, shared use path, and skate park below the interchange

The project team is engaging with the City of New Bedford, abutting residents and businesses, roadway users, and other stakeholders throughout the construction process. MassDOT is committed to lessening the temporary construction impacts on the community and traveling public.

Construction will take place from 2025-2030 for an overall timeline of 5 years. It is currently anticipated that construction of the viaduct will take place in five phases.

For more information about the project, please visit the project website: <https://www.mass.gov/route-i-195-to-route-18-interchange-rehabilitation-in-new-bedford> or <https://tinyurl.com/3c37fa3k>

There is also a link to subscribe to receive bi-weekly updates on construction and traffic impacts.

Recipe of the Week

Chicken Pot Pie

1/3 cup butter
2 cups carrots, peeled and sliced
1 1/2 cups onion, chopped
8 oz. mushrooms, wiped clean and sliced
1/2 cup all-purpose flour, divided use
3 1/4 cups chicken broth
1 tbsp Dijon-style mustard
1 tbsp minced fresh thyme leaves
1/2 tsp ground black pepper
3 cups cubed boneless, skinless chicken breasts, cooked
1 cup frozen peas, thawed
3 tbsp parsley
1 sheet frozen puff pastry sheet, thawed

Heat oven to 400°. Melt the butter in 12" skillet over med. heat. Add the carrots, onions, and mushrooms and cook for 5 minutes or until the vegetables are tender-crisp, stirring occasionally.

Add 1/3 cup flour; cook and stir for 3 minutes or until the flour is golden brown. Slowly add the broth, stirring constantly with a whisk. Continue to stir until the mixture boils and thickens. Stir in the mustard, thyme, pepper, chicken, peas, and parsley then remove the skillet from heat.

Spoon the chicken mixture into a casserole dish. Sprinkle the remaining flour on a large flat surface and unfold the pastry sheet on it. Place the puff pastry over the casserole and trim the excess.

Place the casserole dish onto a baking sheet. Bake until filling is hot, and bubbly and the pastry is golden brown, about 45 minutes.

takes me with her anywhere dogs are allowed. We go for bagels and coffee on Sunday mornings on sunny days. I don't drink coffee, but the doggy bagels with liver and bacon cream cheese are fantastic.

We often go for rides in her convertible and hikes at the beach and outdoor fairs. She makes me wear a visor, sunglasses, and sunscreen on my nose. Dogs can get sunburned and blinded if they don't protect their skin and eyes.

Last week, a lady from the shelter called to ask my mom if she would be willing to give me up because my first mom called and said that things were better at home and wanted me back. My mom said she would let me decide and would get back to her.

I know it will upset my first mom if I choose not to go back. It wasn't her fault that she gave me up. We were evicted, and the new place didn't take dogs. How can I tell her that I still love her, but I think I'd be best staying where I am?

Dear Frankie

Returns

Dear Frankie,
I was adopted for the second time a year and a half ago. I never thought I could love another mom, but I was wrong.

My new mom is single and treats me like a best friend. She

Dear Lorraine,

Your new mom sounds like a lot of fun and responsible. However, I don't think she should have asked you to make the decision. This is too heavy a burden to place on your young shoulders. You are not a ping pong ball to be bounced from one home to another.

Your mom should call the shelter and tell the person who called that adoptions are permanent, and she has no intention of surrendering you.

She might also say that she should read the shelter's adoption policies and procedures before calling adoptive parents. She should also contact the shelter's director and request that they train their staff to prevent distressing calls like this from being made to other families.

You made the right decision to stay where you are. Your mom provides you with a safe and stable environment. However, that doesn't mean you don't love your first mom.

Best, Frankie

This little guy needs a name

Fairhaven has a high-tech helper to the harbor — a Jellyfishbot! This grant-funded autonomous aquatic robot is here to clean up floating debris...but first, it needs a name.

We're looking for fun, creative, and maybe even historically inspired names that pay homage to Fairhaven's coastal roots.

Here's how it works:

- Submit your name idea(s) below
- We'll narrow down the entries into a shortlist
- Then, join us at Huttleston HarborFest on Saturday, August 23rd at Fort Phoenix's Grimshaw Park to vote for your favorite! Voting runs from 11AM to 3:30PM at the Fest, and the winning name will be chosen at 4PM from the top contenders.

Let's give our Jellyfishbot a name that makes waves!

Submit your names here: <https://forms.gle/oYAfVVC4eCjXGKYA6>

The Jellyfishbot 2.3 x 2.3 x 1.6 feet, and weist 44 pounds. It is r e m o t e l y controlled, with a range of 500 meters (1640 feet). It has an onboard camera and a fastening system for nets, equipment, and u n d e r w a t e r probes.

It can be used to set booms or a net can be attached to scoop up waste floatig in the water.

Fish Derby teaches kids the basics

By Beth David
Editor

The Fairhaven Recreation Center, and the Marine Resources Department sponsored their second annual Fishing Derby on Friday, 8/1/25, at Hoppy's Landing in Fairhaven.

The Rec Center posted on its Facebook page that it was a "huge success, and we couldn't be more proud of all the amazing anglers who came out to enjoy the day with us!"

Winners were: Myles Abdelnour with the most fish; Kenny Burr with the most unusual fish (Blue Crab); Theo Couto with the largest fish (13.5")

Bounty Hunters Charter provided rods and bait, and rods for prizes.

"Thank you to everyone who participated, cheered, and helped make this event another one to remember," wrote the Rec Center. "We're already looking forward to next year!"

To learn more about Fairhaven Rec and its programs, call 508-993-9269.

decades.

The inscription on it reads: "In memory of the soldiers of Acushnet who served in the Army and Navy of the Civil War and other wars for the preservation of the Union."

The moving of the monument comes as preparations are made for the historic building to be available for sale.

According to Acushnet Town Administrator, James Kelley, voters decided three town meetings ago to sell the old library. He said they did a "bunch of research" and decided the best place for it will be at the Fire Station at Parting Ways.

He said the veterans memorial at Pope Park is not an appropriate location because there is not enough room there.

The town will also have to locate a time capsule that is somewhere in the front of the building.

"Then we can put it up for sale, said Mr. Kelley.

There is also a smaller monument that will have to be removed, but the town's Department of Public Works will be able to do that, he said.

MO L.I.F.E gets state house tour

On July 1, 2025, participants of M.O. L.I.F.E's Fairhaven and Middleborough CBDS (Community-Based Day Support) program enjoyed a private tour of the State House in Boston! State Rep. Mark Sylvia (D), Fairhaven, gave the tour. "Thank you to State Rep Mark Sylvia for organizing this and helping us to provide this great experience!!" wrote Charles K. Murphy, President of MO LIFE. Protesters rally at Fairhaven High School

Approximately 350 people rallied at Fairhaven High School on Saturday, 8/2/25, as part of a nationwide protest against the policies of the Trump Administration.

The high school has been the site for protests in Fairhaven over the past few months. This month's theme was "Rage Against the Regime," and was part of a nationwide protest promoted by 50501: 50 States, 50 Protests, 1 Day.

Hundreds of cities across the US joined in the Day of Action on 8/2 according to a variety of news sources.

The next day of action called for by 50501 is on September 1 for Labor

Day, and will be "Workers Over Billionaires Labor Day National Day of Action"

50501 states on its website that they are fighting "to uphold the Constitution and end executive overreach."

Learn more about 50501 at <https://www.fiftyfifty.one/> or find them on Facebook

Fairhaven Historical Society awards scholarship

Press release

The Fairhaven Historical Society is pleased to announce the awarding of the Enrique Goytizolo Scholarship to Mr. Adam Marshio of Fairhaven High School Class of 2025.

Inspired by the films using Fairhaven as a setting, and by the creativity of the town's own filmmakers, Adam hopes his college years will lead him to a career in film, adding to the town's screen presence.

He will continue his education at Bridgewater State University this fall.

Harbor Plan

EPA has extended the public comment period AGAIN for the draft ESD7 to Aug. 24. Comments can be submitted via Regulations.gov (Docket ID No. EPA-R01-SFUND-2025-0131). All comments are reviewed and responded to in writing by EPA prior to selecting a final alternative for the ESD. The draft seventh explanation of significant differences is a document that modifies the cleanup plan for the New Bedford Harbor Superfund Site. The English Bulldog – A New Life

What's so redeeming about a dog that has a head structure that allows a capacity for biting you while breathing at the same time? On the surface one may wonder why so many people would choose the English Bulldog as their favorite. Senior citizens, young children, universities, a prominent truck manufacturer, Winston Churchill, fiery Pastor John Hagee, and yours truly are among them.

The Bulldog, to the best of our knowledge, had its origin in the British Isles. The name "bull" was applied because of the dog's use in the sport of bull-baiting, which was extremely cruel. The event took place in an arena or amphitheater to the amusement of a bloodthirsty crowd. The original Bulldog had to be very ferocious and so savage and courageous as to be almost insensitive to pain. Smashed teeth and broken bones were the usual results of a Bulldog who latched onto the nose of a bull, was thrashed about, and refused to let go.

Around 1835 dog fighting as a sport became illegal in England. Therefore, the English Bulldog had outlived his usefulness and his days seemed numbered. Dog lovers, who felt deep disappointment at the passing of the breed, took on the task of preserving it. They proceeded to eliminate the undesirable fierce characteristics and to preserve and accentuate the finer qualities. Within a few generations, the English Bulldog became one of the finest examples of dog breeding, minus its original viciousness.

The transformation of the nature of the English Bulldog has an interesting parallel to what the Bible describes for a person being "born again." The unique difference is the Bulldog relied on human handlers to restrain them, so we may be justly proud of the Bulldog we know today, realizing their greater value as trusted companions. We, as believers in Christ, have had to rely on God (The Champion from above) by repenting of our sins and asking His Holy Spirit to enter our hearts to redevelop us by His divine nature from within.

Just as the English Bulldog went through years of reconditioning and didn't become a trusted companion overnight, we too as "born again" believers are a work in progress. What's hopeful in all of this is the choice each of us has before us: We can continue to bite until we are out of breath in our unforgiveness and sinful ways, or let go in repentance and let God handle us His way!!!

The Power of the Press

One of Mark Twain's best pieces of advice was "Never argue with a man who buys ink by the barrel" — his testimony to the power of the press.

When people criticize Beth David's reporting, they're forgetting a crucial fact: She's not just a reporter; she owns the paper. Just as Rupert Murdoch owns the Wall Street Journal and can print whatever news and opinion he wishes, Ms. David owns the Fairhaven Neighborhood News and can print what she likes. You may not agree with her choices, but she has every right to make them. She allows others to express their opinion in letters, although she has no obligation to do so.

As for the town's printing notices in the FNN, it's the cheapest and most efficient way to reach the largest number of Fairhaven residents. No-brainer.

Another good piece of advice to Ms. David's critics is the "front page test": Never do anything that you wouldn't want to see on the front page of the Fairhaven Neighborhood News.

Beth Luey, Fairhaven

Concern About the Hostility Toward the Free Press

As a Fairhaven resident, I'm deeply concerned by growing hostility toward the free press both nationally and now locally.

At the July 28 Selectboard meeting, a public comment crossed a dangerous line, suggesting the Board should influence or reprimand The Fairhaven Neighborhood News. That reveals a fundamental misunderstanding of the First Amendment.

Let's be clear: the press doesn't exist to shield public officials from criticism. It exists to inform the people, even when the truth is uncomfortable.

Government interference in media coverage isn't just inappropriate; it can be unconstitutional and retaliatory. Officials, tread carefully — we're paying attention.

Massachusetts General Law requires municipalities to post public notices in a newspaper of general circulation. In Fairhaven, that's The Fairhaven Neighborhood News. This isn't about preference; it's about transparency. Where else do we consistently see Fairhaven's news? Not in the Standard-Times, and certainly not in The Wanderer.

If you don't like something that was covered, don't lash out; reflect. Learn. Do better. That's what public service demands. Criticism isn't cruelty; it's accountability.

To Beth David — thank you. Your editorial was strong, clear, and necessary. Great job, and keep going. Fairhaven needs its local press more than ever.

To readers: support The Fairhaven Neighborhood News. Visit advertisers. Donate if you can. It's the only consistent coverage we've got.

First Amendment advocate*

Obituary: Charles Piona Jr.

Charles J. Piona Jr.

Charles J. Piona Jr., passed away peacefully surrounded by the ones he loved on August 1, 2025.

A resident of Brockton, Canton, Onset, Fairhaven, and Boynton Beach, Florida, Charlie made a noticeable impact wherever he resided and spent time.

After serving in Vietnam as a medic, he led a life of service to his communities. He spent 11 years in the Brockton Fire Department, having reached the role of Lieutenant, and spent the following decades as a school bus driver.

Charlie enjoyed swimming and volunteering, notably at a school for special needs and a soup kitchen for the less fortunate, where he took pride in playing the role of Santa every Christmas season.

A master of endurance and undeniable personal fortitude, Charlie will be forever remembered for both his unquestionable wit and his white baseball cap...which he solely preferred because in the old westerns that he grew up watching, "the good guys wore white hats."

He is survived by his wife of 38 years, Mari Piona, his twin sister Esther Rolfe, daughter Caitlin Bibeau and son Gregory Piona and his fiancé Gretchen Devine. And his absolute favorite, his grandson Bennett Bibeau. He will also be missed by his two sisters Marie and Joanne, as well as many nieces and nephews.

Charlie was predeceased by his eldest son CJ Piona.

Calling hours will be Thursday, August 7th, 2025 from 4pm to 7pm at Fairhaven Funeral Home 117 Main Street, Fairhaven, MA. Charlie will be laid to rest privately at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to St Jude's, which Charlie donated to for over 30 years and a cause close to his heart.

Rest in peace, Charlie. You are deeply loved and will be greatly missed.

Obituary: Raymond DeSimas

Raymond DeSimas

Raymond DeSimas of Fairhaven passed away July 5, 2025 at 92, following a life well lived.

He was the devoted son of the late Joseph DeSimas and Louise (Mello) DeSimas.

Ray was born in Dartmouth, and was raised in New Bedford on the family farm on Hathaway Road; later living on Deane Street in New Bedford, Jason's Road Rochester, but spent most of his life in Acushnet on Mendall Road. He cleared the property, built his home as well as the many stone walls, and maintained it for over 40 years. It was his lifelong passion. His later years living next to his daughter, son and their families in Fairhaven.

He enjoyed agriculture, raising grapes and blueberries, and had a very large garden for many years. For several years Ray sold Christmas trees raised on his property.

Ray was the foreman at Keith Box Company in Acushnet for many years and later owned his own business, Stonehill Farm Landscaping until his retirement.

He was a proud veteran of the Korean War and served in Korea from 1952 to 1954, attaining the rank of Corporal in the 1931st 30 Ordnance Company. One of his fondest memories was in 2017 when he participated in the Rhode Island Fire Chiefs Honor Flight "Papa". The group flew to Washington DC and visited many War memorials. Ray was a member of the Disabled American Veterans.

Ray enjoyed boxing in his youth and competed in the Amateur Bermuda Boxing Association under the name "Ray Steele". His other lifelong passion was Pigeon Racing which he did for many years with his father Joe. As members of the New Bedford Racing Pigeon Club, and later with his son John as a member of the Fall River Racing Pigeon Club, the DeSimas and Son Loft won many races, including 500 mile races.

He was an avid horse rider, owning many different horses over his lifetime. In earlier years, Ray enjoyed camping and attending Fairs with the family.

Survivors include his daughter Debra Duff, her husband Robert Duff of Fairhaven; son John DeSimas, his companion Carol Medeiros of Fair-haven; a grandson James DeSimas of Los Angeles, CA, 3 step grandchildren, Jayme, Michelle, and Kristina. He was the brother of the late Joseph, Walter, Manuel, Frederick DeSimas, Dorothy Meister, Louise Russell, and many beloved nieces and nephews living throughout the United States. He was the former husband of Beatrice Johnson, with whom he shared a lifelong friendship.

Ray was always grateful to the New Bedford VA Medical Clinic for the many years of outstanding medical care and grateful to the staff for their commitment to veterans' healthcare, especially Josh and Dr. Nye.

Ray's Family would like to extend their thanks to the VA Homecare Professionals, Southcoast VNA, and FCP Live-in, especially his home health care provider Loretta, for all their efforts and care in assisting him to live independently at home.

Additionally, they are grateful to the caring and supportive staff of the Southcoast VNA Hospice staff, the dedicated staff at the Royal in Fairhaven.

In accordance with Family wishes, services and the burial will be private.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105 or at stjude.org.
