First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Judge Murray Gurfein, Pentagon Papers case, June 17, 1971:

"The security of the Nation is not at the ramparts alone. Security also lies in the value of our free institutions. A cantankerous press, an obstinate press, a ubiquitous press must be suffered by those in authority in order to preserve the even greater values of freedom of expression and the right of the people to know."

From The Editor

WEST ISLAND —
A day late and many dollars short.

Well, my mother went to heaven and I immediately descended into tech support hell. First one thing, then another. Go figure.

Thank you to everyone who sent condolences after hearing about the death of my mother. I am very appreciative of the people who showed up at the wake or the funeral.

Mom's obituary is on page 6. And, of course, I added a few pics. Yes, that's Evil Dog with her. He was not evil to her. Ever.

Whatever, dog, whatever.

It was very nice of the Select Board to mention my mother's death and have a moment of silence for her, along with Gail Isaksen. They are both in good company.

We have a little Select Board coverage for you this week. See page 4 or that. It was a short meeting and the day of my mother's funeral, so....

The town of Fairhaven launched a new emergency boat. See page 18 for that.

Our cover story is always fun, but, no doubt it's way more fun when we win, huh? Sam Simoes did a great job capturing the fun moments. See page 12 for some of his great photos of our kids. Who are, by the way, headed to Gillette again. See page 12 for the story on the game, and a short reminder of the championship info. We ran a longer piece on it last week. But you might still have time to watch it.

The biggest story this week, though, is all the little itty bitty listings for Holiday Happenings. They are spread throughout the paper, so you have to look.

While you're doing that, be sure to notice who our advertisers are so you can tell them you saw their ads in the Neighb News.

Until next week, then, see ya,

Glory to Ukraine!
Glory to the Heroes!

Fairhaven SB approves car dealership; makes appointments

By Beth David
Editor

In a quick meeting on 12/1/25, the Fairhaven Select Board approved a Hyundai dealership and made several appointments to different committees.

The former site of the Alden/GMC dealership on Alden Road will get a new life soon. The board approved Tasca Hyundai Fairhaven to operate at the site.

The dealership will sell new and used cars, and will also repair vehicles at the site.

David Tasca, Jr., speaking for his uncle, Robert Tasca, said he plans to renovate the building to Hyundai specification, and “really bring that property back to life.”

He also said a dealership of that size would typically have 30-40 employees.

The building has been empty for about five years, since the Mazda dealership moved out of the building into a new space on Bridge Street.

The board also approved an additional “pour license” for Nasketucket Bay Vineyard.

Owner Nicolas Christy told the board that they have been distilling their wine into brandy. They are allowed to sell by the bottle, but need a pouring permit to our on site for tastings or by the glass.

He said the brandy needs to age, so he expects they will have some for sale in the spring.

The board also appointed new members to three committees.

The board voted to appoint Molly Turner and Caroline Martinez to the Dog Park Study Committee, which had three openings.

SB member Andrew Romano, the board’s liaison to the committee, said it did not yet have enough members to have a meeting. He said he had spoken to both applicants.

The board also voted for a two additions to the Historical Commission.

Brian Messier said that Fairhaven has the most interesting historic buildings in the state. He said it was important for the town to keep them in a state where they will last for hundreds of more years. He noted that he was a firefighter/paramedic in town for more than 30 years.

Doug Brady, in his pitch to get appointed, noted that the board could also appoint an Associate member.

Mr. Brady told the board about his experience with the Rogers School and the Oxford School bell.

He noted that he saved the town more than $16k by doing the work as a volunteer to get the Rogers School on the National Register of Historic Places.

He also said he does not have Facebook so they do not have to worry about him on social media.

Mr. Romano expressed concern about appointing an associate member because it had not been publicized.

In the end the board voted unanimously to appoint Mr. Brady to a regular seat on the HC.

They also voted to make Mr. Messier an associate member, with Mr. Romano voting “no.” He said he had no problem voting for Mr. Messier, but felt it should wait until the next meeting.

The board also appointed Wendy Drumm to the Sustainability Committee, a committee she has served on.

Food Drive

Marsh Island, located at the site of a former quarry and, later, filled in with dredged sand from the harbor, came to be known by locals as "Tin Can Island" for its reputation as a party spot and for the litter that accumulated there.

After a massive cleanup two weeks ago, in which tons of trash were collected—from plastics to Styrofoam to cans of assorted metals—the Buzzards Bay Coalition wishes to attract some tin cans back to the site in a different way.

The BBC will be collecting all non-perishable food items—not just tin cans—from those visiting Marsh Island through December. Tubs will be located near the trailhead and items will be picked up frequently. Items will be donated to the First Congregational Church in Fairhaven, which has an emergency food pantry.

Obituary: Octavia David

Octavia David

Octavia (Peters) David, 95, loving wife of 41 years to the late Thomas David of New Bedford, died with family by her side on 11/24/25 at Alden Court Nursing Care and Rehabilitation Center after a long period of declining health.

She graduated from New Bedford High School in 1949, and then from Kinyon-Campbell Business School. She used those skills to work at Arlan's, Aerovox, and then to run Cyclone Cleaning with her husband for many years.

Whether it was teaching her grandchildren to climb trees, cooking stuffed grape leaves (hundreds) for the neighborhood kids, or just saying "yes" to the nieces and nephews who wanted to use the pool, Octavia lived her life with vibrancy, exuberance, and love.

When she moved to the home she lovingly named "Misty Acres," she was able to embrace her love of animals, having dogs, cats, horses, chickens and a host of strays (and not only the four-legged kind) under her care.

She had an uncanny knack with people, a well-known family trait, which she used mercilessly to charm angry people, such as airport officials who were tasked with chasing the David horses off the runway and then chastising the owners. Inevitably, they would end up laughing and joking over (spiked?) coffee at her legendary kitchen table.

Octavia did not recognize Christmas as a "season." She played Christmas music all year long, especially in July. But Christmas truly was in a competition with Halloween for her favorite holiday, convincing many of her nieces and nephews that she was literally a true witch.

And Christmas music was not the only mood-setting device in her famously welcoming kitchen. There was a crackling fire, the smell of coffee brewing, and the soothing words of all the famous crooners wafting through the air, as she twirled around dancing to the tunes of her day.

And summertime at Misty Acres created its own mystique with family parties for the ages, fireworks at the Fourth of July, clamboils, barbecues, and fresh vegetables from the garden. Those fabulous memory-making events inevitably ended with nothing more precious than settling in under the shade of the grape arbor (aka areesheee) with coffee, arak, cigars and stories that often could be true.

In her later years, she enjoyed her seaside escape in Fairhaven, aka "The Cottage," a place nearly as magical as Misty Acres, but blessed with ocean breezes and cooling tides.

With a 95-year legacy of love, laughter, charity, and faith in God, she will be remembered for her generosity, graciousness, and vibrancy. Everything in moderation, she would say, while gently pushing her young confidants to explore, learn, live, but always remember to come back home.

She leaves behind her children, Elizabeth David of Fairhaven, Catherine Thomas and her husband Matthew of New Bedford, Anthony David and his wife Marcelle of Dartmouth, and Marie David and her husband George Borges of Rochester; grandchildren, Victoria, Samuel, and David Thomas, and Thomas David; her sisters, Mary Ann Chomak of Dartmouth, and Norma Thomas of Fairhaven; and many nieces and nephews.

She was the daughter of the late George and Kaffa (Dumat) Peters of New Bedford. She was predeceased by her daughter, Christine David of Fairhaven; and her sisters, Rose Peters, RSM (aka Sr. Mary Assunta) of Cumberland, RI; Cecelia Attallah of Fairhaven, Freda Thomas, Ann Abraham, Emily Alves, Mary Barckett, Theresa Coury, and Louise Dupre, all of New Bedford.

The family would like to thank Alden Court and the many staff members who provided compassionate care to Octavia.

A funeral mass and interment were held on 12/1/25. Arrangements were by Fairhaven Funeral Home, 117 Main Street, Fairhaven.

Boy Scouts help decorate Benoit Square

Boy Scout Troop 52 helped out the North Fairhaven Improvement Association on 11/29/25, decorating Benoit Square in Fairhaven for the Holiday season. The square is at the intersection of Main Street and Howland Road. The lights will be turned on for the season on Friday, 12/5, at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Claus and friends will sing Christmas songs with the crowd, and Santa will visit. Free hot chocolate help keep people warm. All are invited to attend this free event. ## Dear Frankie

National Dog Day

Dear Frankie,
The upcoming holiday season has me thinking about how much people spend on holidays from Halloween to New Year's Day. In 2024, they spent 994.1 billion on holiday shopping — including gifts, travel, and entertainment. In 2025, they spent 34 billion dollars on Mother's Day and 24 billion on Father's Day.

It does make me wonder why more was spent on mothers than on fathers. But I'll leave that for another time. Yet how many Americans celebrate National Dog Day or know when it is celebrated? It's August 26, if anyone is interested.

When I looked up how much Americans spend on that holiday, I found no information available.

American dog owners say their dogs are family members and like their children. So why don't they spend big bucks on us on our holiday?

Jake

Dear Jake,

If American dog owners really see their dogs as family, they should show it by celebrating National Dog Day.

Maybe they just haven't thought about it much before, but now that they know the date, there's no reason not to honor their dogs like they do the rest of the family.

Best, Frankie

Something Smells Here

Please excuse my ignorance. I don't really follow town politics all that much. However, recently my attention was drawn to a very well written letter about the now infamous Hiller/Timothy Development. Kudos to the 28 authors/signees.

The facts, as I know them, are very compelling. We have a development originally rejected by the Planning Board. The developer sues the town and every court throws it out. Denied again. The developer then re-applies, but now under a different name (an LLC), thus gaining sufficient anonymity and cover. Apparently, this developer doesn't hear "no" very often.

So, now the new app just sits in a pile. And.... sits. And.... sits some more. No one is the wiser. Then thru some archaic state law if it sits for 155 days and goes unnoticed the app automatically gets approved. Why is this insane bylaw even on the books in the first place?

At this point "constructive approval" kicks in due to inaction. It's obvious most Planning Board members were not even aware of this re-application. However, there are a couple of town officials on the inside that knew something and looked the other way. They mysteriously remained silent. Why so shy? Is it off base to ask.... are they friends of the developer? Are they secretly on the land deed? Did they get paid off? Something just isn't right here.

Right now it's all conjecture and hyperbole. So, let's investigate it. If this is, in fact, a corrupt development the two insiders and the developer himself should be brought up on charges. The Planning Board was left in the dark and the abutters did not get to voice their concerns prior to the start of this project and get a chance to block it.

Investigate and follow the money. It'll shock you what you might find. Let's unearth or "excavate" the details. Irony isn't it? The developer owns "Fairhaven Excavation". You can't make this stuff up.

I'm all in favor of progress. But, if this turns out to be riddled with corruption then this development is all ill gotten gains. That's not progress. That's regress.

I'm not quite sure what smells worse? The waste water treatment plant near this development.... or the development itself?

A Message from Old Colony

To the Residents and Members of the Old Colony School Community

On behalf of the Old Colony District School Committee, I want to extend our sincere appreciation to everyone who participated in the recent vote regarding our school building project. As you know, the proposal did not pass. While this outcome is not what we had hoped for, we recognize the importance of continuing to work collaboratively as we determine our next steps.

Over the coming months, the Old Colony School Committee, along with the school administration, will be seeking input from town officials to develop a path forward. Although the election outcome presents challenges, it also provides an opportunity for deeper dialogue. We will prioritize areas needing immediate attention while most importantly continuing to provide a quality academic and vocational education for our students. Maintaining a building that is a safe learning environment for our students, teachers, and staff will be at the forefront of our decision-making process. We understand this will be a difficult task, but we will remain steadfast.

The school district and school administration remain committed to transparency in its fiscal planning and will not deviate from that philosophy. We will keep families, staff, and community members informed of our progress. The Old Colony school community is strong, resilient, and dedicated. We remain optimistic in what we can achieve together, even in these difficult moments. Thank you for your ongoing support, your engagement, and your commitment to our students and your children.

Nancy A. Souza, Chair, Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical School District Committee

ORR Thanks State For Funding

I am writing to express my sincere thanks to the state legislators who have supported much-needed improvements to the Old Rochester Regional School District's athletic facilities.

In 2020, I worked with then Representative William Strauss to advocate for an earmark dedicated to improving our athletic fields. That funding, awarded at the end of the legislative session, is now making possible long-awaited upgrades that will benefit our student-athletes and the broader community for years to come. I am grateful for Bill's partnership and commitment to this project.

I would also like to extend my thanks to Representative Mark Sylvia and Senator Michael Rodrigues, with whom I recently worked to advocate for additional support for our district. Their efforts during the 2025 legislative session resulted in a $30,000 grant for important safety and equipment upgrades in the ORR gymnasium. These improvements will directly benefit the students who use this space every day.

I write this letter not on behalf of the School Committee, but as a member of the committee and as a constituent who cares deeply about our schools and the opportunities we provide to our students. I am grateful for the collaboration from our state legislators and remain committed to advocating for the resources our district needs to thrive.

Frances-Feliz Kearns, Mattapoisett, ORR School Committee

Please Stop Publishing That Stuff

re: Betty Ussach letter (11/13/25 issue)

The First Amendment gives us the right of free speech. I would argue that the Amendment also asks us to be organized and rational in delivering the speech. That discourse needs organization and quality of thought.

When Letters To The Editor are misguided, vituperative in their language and misleading to the public, then, it can be argued that they are ideological and require a counterpoint.

Let's stop with the Epstein files, already. You have not read them; you do not know what they contain, so anything that is said about them is pure speculation, such as tying the President to them, and that includes other truly outrageously misleading statements that are misdirected and nonsense. Those comments are disloyal at best, anti-American at

Fairhaven beats Dartmouth in Thanksgiving Day matchup

By Beth David
Editor

The Fairhaven High School Blue Devils beat the Dartmouth Indians 21-14 in the traditional Thanksgiving Day football matchup, played in Dartmouth this year.

The Blue Devils scored early on, but the game was not decided until the end of the last quarter. The game was tied for much of the game, but the touchdown by Ian Alexion clinched it for Fairhaven 2:07 remaining.

Fairhaven will play Norwell in the Mass. Interscholastic Athletic Association (MIAA) Division VII state championships on Thursday, 12/4/25 at 7:45 p.m. See page 5 for more details or visit <https://tinyurl.com/2vustysb>

Acushnet Lions hold annual toy/food drive and bike run

The Acushnet Lions Club held their annual food and toy drive and bike run on Sunday, 11/30/25. About 30 bikers braved the cold weather to pony up $20 and gather at River's End Cafe where a truck from Adams and Adams awaited. Motorcycle riders, Lions, and other volunteers helped load the truck with the help of 2025 Miss Apple Peach, Elyza Wagner, and Jr. Miss Apple Peach, Aubrey Souza. Food and toys went to the Shepherd's Pantry in Acushnet where they will be distributed. If you'd like to donate to the pantry, mail check or money order to Shepherd's Pantry, Long Plain Methodist Church, 1215 Main St., Acushnet, MA 02743; 508-763-9289. Or find them on Facebook. ### Grossman Got It Wrong

John Pond (Nov. 20) says Charlie Kirk loved America. But how can a Christian nationalist love America, the leading nation of our scientific-industrial-capitalist, Western civilization?

Kirk's America is a mystical ideal in an unfocused mind, transcending the world, transcending the individual. Kirk's America is a collector of sacrifices, not a nation for man's life in the world. Kirk's America is just God or Jesus with a different name. It's not the concretely real, 1776 America with its historically unique morality of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And the historically unique politics of individual rights to defend that morality.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness was not Christian morality for 1800 years of the glorification of bloody sacrifice. Individual rights was not Christian politics for 1800 years of faith and force. Christianity spread by the sword. Nothing has changed. We are returning to the Dark Ages, 500AD to 900AD, after Rome fell and before man regained the pride to focus his mind again and live in the world.

Crucifixion is not a celebration of man's life. It's the suffering end of man's life. Jesus didn't call for an individual rights rebellion against Rome. He said, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." Sheep don't rebel. Sheep get shorn. And become mutton.

Americans need a second Revolution, an intellectual and moral revolution to justify 1776. We need to regain the respect for man's independent, reasoning, focused mind that created this nation.

Our Leftist schools have deliberately, consciously and systematically disintegrated the American mind.

As the Rolling Stones sang, "Shattered!" It's vastly more destructive than Leftist politics and transexuality. They call it anti-ideological Pragmatism or Postmodernism. It's nihilism, destruction for the sake of destruction, with no shining ideal in the future. It's not even communism, which is an ideal.

Students mindlessly memorize a chaos of meaningless facts without values, without intellectual unity, without principles, without certainty, without guidance for their lives outside of school. Education is mind-training for teaching young people how to use their minds like adults. Common sense is for children who passively accept what their minds chance to provide. Educated adults actively take conscious control of their minds. They connect facts into a unity to guide long-range action. They are not at the mercy of their emotions, like Trump.

Fairhven launches new emergency boat

By Jonathan Comey

Neighb News Correspondent

When responding to a marine emergency, teamwork is of the highest importance.

So it was fitting that it took some top-notch teamwork between departments, administrations and towns to bring the shiny new Marine 34 fire boat to the Fairhaven fleet.

"This is an historic moment for our community and our department," Fairhaven Fire Chief Todd Correia said to kick off a Nov. 14 event launching the boat into the waters off of Pease Park. "Marine 34 is a vessel designed with marine firefighting abilities, hazardous material response and emergency medical response to not only the town of Fairhaven but Buzzards Bay as a whole."

The need for a fire boat had been identified under the administrations of Chiefs David Crowley and Tim Francis, but prohibitive expense kept the addition at bay.

"Due to the limitations of budget, our dream never came true," Correia said.

But several harbor incidents in recent years brought urgency to the matter, and the town turned to the Bristol County Commissioners office to help out with access to federal harbor protection funds.

After getting the Fairhaven select board's approval, the request for funds was submitted - and declined. But the town didn't give up, reaching out to Bristol County commissioner John Saunders to plead their case.

"There were some misunderstandings," Saunders said, but after more discussion the funding was approved.

"I've been on the waterfront my whole life, sixty years, and this couldn't be needed any more," Saunders said. "Especially the last 4-5 years, we've had some major accidents on the waterfront, and it's a joint effort between New Bedford and Fairhaven to conquer these tasks."

"I think we helped this town and several other towns in our community to take on projects that don't have to be supported by the backs of the taxpayers. It's just a great cause to put money toward to help save lives.

As a large flag dangling from the ladder of a Fairhaven fire truck flew overhead, and the new fire boat gleamed in the background, Chief Correia thanked Saunders - "our champion" - along with members of his staff, acting deputy fire chief Josh Benoit and harbormaster Timothy Cox.

Benoit led the group designing the vessel from the ground up, a process that Correia says took "months and years to develop."

Excitement grew as the team worked with Alabama-based manufacturing company Silver Ships to produce the aluminum workboat. The team traveled to Alabama to do sea trials and testing, all leading up to the launch.

"This represents a major step forward to protect lives, property and the environment," Benoit said, noting that the shipbuilding team relied on human operators, not machines.

Marine 34 has 1500-gallon-per-minute fire pump, thermal imaging and side-scan sonar to tackle all manner of water emergency. It's equipped with a patient treatment bench, storage area for medical gear and abilities advanced life support.

"Josh spent countless hours of his own time researching products, electronics, power sources and navigation for this vessel," Correia said. "His contribution to this project relieved me of a lot of pressures."

The harbormaster department will be the main operator of the boat, enabling fire and emergency medical teams to focus on their respective duties.

Harbormaster Tim Cox said "we are one small town in Buzzards Bay, but there only a few places where people keep boats in the water and this town is one of them. I think this boat is going to fit in very well and be able to help a lot of people."

"This is a true partnership," Correia said. "We'll be doing joint training sessions, and we look forward to working together."

With the remarks finished, fire department chaplain, Lt. Robert Langevin, delivered a blessing - "we pray that this vessel will return safely to the harbor and its docking at every venture."

Town Administrator Keith Hickey christened Marine 34 with the smash of a champagne bottle.

Then, gleaming in the sun with bursts of red and silver, it was lowered into the water to a round of applause from the gathered - the first dip into the Fairhaven waterfront of what will be many to come.

One miraculous night.

Experience the warmth and wonder of the season with Amahl and the Night Visitors, Gian Carlo Menotti's beloved one-act opera, performed by an exceptional cast under the direction of David McCarty, with conductor and pianist Dr. Matthew Larson and chorus master Margaret Bossi.

Join us for this heartwarming story of a poor shepherd boy whose life is changed forever when three kings, following a star, stop at his humble home on their journey to Bethlehem.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors has been on the Seaglass "TO-DO" list for many years, and when Maggie Bossi (Dennis Union Church Director of Music) asked to collaborate on it—we jumped at the chance. I am thrilled that we were able to bring so many talented people together to bring this opera to life." says STC Artistic Director Patrice Tiedemann.

The performances are free, and all are welcome.

Reservations are recommended for the Fairhaven performance, and can be made on Eventbrite: <https://amahlfairhaven.eventbrite.com>

Tax Aide Volunteers

Tax season is still months away, but the AARP Foundation Tax-Aide program is already busy recruiting volunteers for the 2026 tax season. AARP is the largest of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) and Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) programs in the nation, both IRS-supported initiatives.

Volunteer tax preparers work directly with clients to prepare and file returns. No previous tax experience is required because volunteers receive extensive training, culminating in IRS certification.
