More snow...and cold...and snow

Winter has arrived in earnest in these parts. After a whopper of a storm a couple of weeks ago, the region saw a couple more spits and starts. We got hit with another 6-8 inches Saturday, 2/7/26. The light, fluffy stuff got tossed around by high winds out of the north creating blizzard conditions on stretches of road and creating hazardous driving conditions. The temperatures have stayed way below freezing, with wind chills below zero, creating a frozen marsh and seashore all along the coast. ABOVE: Matt Costa and Spike do not let a little bit of blizzard conditions stop them from their daily walk on Causeway Road on West Island in Fairhaven on 2/7/26. Photo by Beth David.

First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Judge Murray Gurfein, Pentagon Papers case, June 17, 1971:

"The security of the Nation is not at the ramparts alone. Security also lies in the value of our free institutions. A cantankerous press, an obstinate press, a ubiquitous press must be suffered by those in authority in order to preserve the even greater values of freedom of expression and the right of the people to know."

From The Editor

WEST ISLAND —
A day late and many dollars short.

February is Black History Month (see page 3), a time when we reflect on the trials and tribulations, and the feats and accomplishments of Black Americans.

And what does the Big Buffoon do? He posts one of the most disgusting videos of the Obamas, depicting them as apes.

They are two of the most accomplished, intelligent people of integrity you'll find anywhere.

Hence, the reason the Big Buffoon has to denigrate them in any way he can.

As my dear departed Aunt Zee used to say: "He's just jealous. They're all jealous."

Yup, she's right.

And our democracy is just barely a democracy. We are no longer free in this country. How can you people jabber on about freedom when the government goons can just grab anyone they want off the street for no reason and hold them indefinitely? How do you define freedom?

And the conditions in the "detention centers," aka gulags and concentration camps, are beyond frightening to hear about.

Regular people who could be your neighbors could be in there. But even worse, regular people are the jailers who are treating people this way.

But, hey, the DOW hit 50K. So, whatever.

We have all kinds of good stuff in here this week, including some meeting coverage (see page 4).

One more thing, can we stop being spoiled Boston fans for once? The Patriots made it to the Super Bowl. Yeah, they lost, and that was disappointing, but...they made it to the Super Bowl! And that, my fellow fans, is way cool.

And Bad Bunny was great! I need to find those songs with subtitles.

Until next week then, see ya,

*Glory to Ukraine!
Glory to the Heroes!*

CORRECTIONS/CLARIFICATIONS

February is Black History Month.

February is Black History Month, and this year's theme is "A Century of Black History Comemorations."

The following information in quotes is from the Association for the Study of African American Life and History (ASALH®), the founders of Black History Month. Visit <https://asalh.org/>

"2026 marks a century of national commemorations of Black history. Dr. Carter Godwin Woodson, George Cleveland Hall, William B. Hartgrove, Jesse E. Moorland, Alexander L. Jackson, and James E. Stamps institutionalized the teaching, study, dissemination, and commemoration of Black history when they founded the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (ASNLH) on September 9, 1915.

"In 1925, when Dr. Carter G. Woodson planned the inaugural week-long observance of Black history, he could hardly have anticipated the imprint he would leave on the world. From Negro History Week to Black History Month, ASALH has carried forth the tradition, and the observances have become part of the warp and weft of American culture and increasingly the global community. For our 100th theme, the founders of Black History Month urge us to explore the impact and meaning of Black history and life commemorations in transforming the status of Black peoples in the modern world."

Locally, several organizations are holding special screenings of movies and other events to commemorate Black History Month. See pages 5, 6, 7.

Statewide, the Department of Conservation and Recreation is holding events at many of its properties (<https://www.mass.gov/info-details/black-history-month-events-at-dcr-properties>)

Fairhaven personnel policy changes; child care for TM

By Beth David
Editor

The Fairhaven Select Board held a public hearing at its 2/9/26 meeting to make changes to the Personnel Policy to align benefits for non-union employees with the benefits just negotiated for employees in the clerical union.

The changes include adding one personal day for full time non-union employees, to give them four instead of three.

The changes also include adding a new tier to time employed and length of vacation, giving employees 30 days vacation a year after they have been with the town for 20 years.

Town Administrator, Keith Hickey, asked the board to approve the changes so all the employees in the building have the same benefits.

No members of the public commented. The board voted to support the changes unanimously.

The board also heard from Recreation Director, Bernadette Barreira, notifying the board that the Rec Center will provide free child care to Town Meeting members on May 2 during TM. The service will also be available at $35 per child to residents who are not TM members but wish to attend the meeting.

Ms. Barreira told the board they wanted to "take away hurdles" for people who want to attend TM.

The Rec Center will provide a safe spot for kids, featuring structured play, crafts and organized games. She said it is the same programming they use for Thanksgiving. Parents will need to provide lunch and snack for their children.

To register and learn more about the details of the program, visit FairhavenRecreation.activityreg.com or visit the Rec Center during regular hours.

SB member, Keith Silvia, said it will hopefully bring more attendance to TM and maybe members will not "take off" right after they vote.

The board also heard from Cathy Melanson for a second time to be appointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals as an Associate member.

Ms. Melanson told the board that she had written out her accomplishments so she would not forget. She had applied for the slot but was not appointed at the last meeting, when SB chairperson Charles Murphy, and SB member Andrew Saunders were not present.

Ms. Melanson reviewed her experience on a variety of boards, but mostly concentrated on her experience on the Planning Board and volunteering in the Planning Department when the town did not have a Planner. She is currently helping out that office remotely because the town is again without a planner.

Mr. Hickey said he had been concerned about Ms. Melanson spending extended amounts of time in the Planning Office due to the recent turmoil with the Planning Board, so he asked her to work from home.

He said she does get calls from staff and she answers questions.

SB Vice Chair Andrew Romano said he would not be voting for her to be on the ZBA because of her involvement in so many other boards, including PB. He said they need volunteers, but they need diverse volunteers.

Police Survey

The Fairhaven Police Department has partnered with Kelley Research Associates to develop a community survey. A community survey helps a police department better understand the needs, concerns, and expectations of the people it serves.

By gathering honest feedback, the Fairhaven Police Department can identify what is working well, where improvements are needed, and how services can be more responsive, fair, and effective. Community input plays a vital role in shaping priorities, strengthening trust, and improving communication between residents and police. The survey results will be used to guide future initiatives, enhance public safety strategies, and ensure the Fairhaven Police Department remains accountable and aligned with community values.

The survey should take 5-10 minutes. Thank you for your participation!

Fhvn's 214th B-day

Feb 22, 2026, 3:00 PM – 6:00 PM, Center Street, Center St., Fairhaven. Join Discover Fairhaven (the Office of Tourism, Community & Economic Development) for Fairhaven's 214th Birthday Celebration — a cozy winter evening celebrating the town we call home.

The celebration will feature live entertainment and music, food and drink, s'mores over campfires, and a few fun surprises. Set against the backdrop of Fairhaven's iconic 19th-century architecture, this gathering is a chance to pause, look around, and appreciate the generations of people who built this town and the community spirit that continues to shape it today.

Whether you're a lifelong resident or new to Fairhaven, come bundle up, spend time with neighbors, and help celebrate 214 years of history, pride, and small-town charm.

Solidarity

Show solidarity every night in the streets to stop ICE. Visibilities will be held around the region in different municipalities each night until we remove the regime and abolish ICE.

In Fairhaven, join us every Thursday at 6 p.m., at the corner of Walnut and Center Streets in the center of town.

Support Brandon Estrella

Fairhaven resident and Conservation Commission member, Brandon Estrella, has suffered a spinal cerebral fluid leak. He will be out of work for a considerable amount of time and faces a long recovery.

His mother, Patti, wrote on his GoFundMe page: "If you know Brandon, he is the one who will give his last dollar to make someone happy. He gives his time and heart to help others, especially those with developmental differences.

"He loves his town and its natural resources and fiercely desires others to respect it as well. You may have seen him this summer at the fairs at Grimshaw Park — educating children and adults about wetlands and conservation efforts. Raising awareness and bringing smiles to the children with little swag items he chose to fund.

"His love of our harbor, shoreline, and the preservation of our community's shellfishing beds is deep in his soul, as it was for his family generations before him."

Visit his GoFundMe page to learn more about his progress, and to help him get through this difficult time. Visit <https://tinyurl.com/msr2hu2j>

Free Films

South Coast Neighbors United is excited to invite you to a free film series this February, presented in partnership with the Office of Sustainability at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth and the Sierra Club Massachusetts Chapter.

This powerful three-part series shines a light on the real-world consequences of corporate pollution, environmental contamination, and decades-long cover-ups — stories that affect communities across the country and right here at home.

All movies are 6-8:30 p.m. in the Charlton College of Business, 285 Old Westport Rd, North Dartmouth, MA 02747 (parking lots 13, 14 in white lined spaces). The film will be screening in Room 149 at 6PM each night. All are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Feb. 12 - The first film in the series is "Dark Waters," starring Mark Ruffalo, Anne Hathaway, and Tim Robbins. This movie tells the gripping true story of a corporate defense attorney (Rob Bilott) who risks everything to expose DuPont's role in widespread chemical contamination.

Feb. 19 - The second film, "The Devil We Know," is an award-winning documentary which dives deeper into the devastating impacts of PFAS contamination (by DuPont) and the communities that fought back after learning the truth.

Feb 26 - The final film, "How To Poison A Planet," featuring Mark Ruffalo and Rob Bilott, is an investigative documentary that uncovers how toxic "forever chemicals" came to be so widely used (by DuPont and 3M) —and why accountability has been so elusive.

Lily Jean Fund

The Gloucester Fishing Community Preservation Fund has established a donation site through Cape Ann Savings Bank to collect donations that will be distributed equally to the family members of those who lost their lives when the F/V Lily Jean sank on January 30, 2026.

In the wake of this tragedy, there have been overwhelming expressions of support for the families of those who were lost, along with requests for a clear and trusted way to provide direct financial assistance.

The Lily Jean Fund has been created for this purpose. The fund accepts tax-deductible contributions and distributes the proceeds in equal amounts to the families of the seven crew members who perished.

One hundred percent (100%) of all contributions received will be distributed directly to the families impacted by this tragedy.

The first $40,000 donated to the F/V Lily Jean Fund will be matched dollar for a dollar by an anonymous donor, whether given as a single donation or through multiple contributions. Secure online donations are available by credit or debit card, PayPal, and Venmo.

To help ensure more of your donation goes directly to the families, please consider adding $1 to help offset processing fees. Visit <https://fvlilyjeanfund.org/>

Checks should be made payable to Gloucester Fishing Community Preservation Fund (GFCPF), a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, memo line "Lily Jean Fund." Mail to: o/c Cape Ann Savings Bank, 109 Main Street, Gloucester, MA 01930 Memo Line. Or visit any Cape Ann Savings Bank branch locations

No-Bake Peanut Butter Cookies

3/4 cup natural peanut butter
1/3 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup low-fat milk
1 3/4 cups rolled oats
1 tsp vanilla extract
1/2 cup chocolate chips
(optional)

Heat peanut butter, brown sugar, butter and milk in a medium saucepan over medium heat, stirring, until the butter and sugar have melted. Stir in oats and vanilla. If using chocolate chips, let the mixture cool to room temperature before stirring them in.

Drop the dough by the tablespoon onto a parchment-lined baking sheet. Press into 2-inch circles. Refrigerate until firm, about 30 minutes. Keep refrigerated

Dear Frankie

Breach of Contract

Dear Frankie,

My parents adopted me when they got married, and those early years together were magical. Laughter filled every corner of our lives. We were always off on an adventure — camping under the stars, sailing across sparkling lakes, swimming until we shivered, or just hanging out at home.

I remember the day we went tobogganing, the snowball fight, and how proud I felt helping my dad drag the toboggan back up the hill.

Back then, it felt like we could never get enough time together.

Everything changed when the baby arrived.

Recently, I overheard my parents talking about the guilt they feel for not giving me as much attention or sharing those special moments as before. They lamented that there just weren't enough hours in the day for everyone. I have mixed feelings. Part of me gets that the baby needs them, but another part feels left out and forgotten. What do I do with all these feelings?

Woodley

Dear Woodley,

It happens all the time when dog parents have a kid. Kids come first with the humans. You do wonder, given the stories you hear about the terrible things some kids do, that makes their parents' lives miserable.

Unfortunately, the old days are not coming back. But that doesn't mean you have to roll over and take it lying down. Let them know you are not pleased. When you are out for a walk, and they want to cut it short, refuse to go home by sitting or lying down, or pulling away, until they agree to walk for a few more minutes.

If they are sitting on the couch, climb up and put your paw on their arm or leg and keep it there until they respond.

Get your ball or a toy and drop it at their feet. If they ignore you, pick it up and drop it in their lap.

In other words, make it easy for them to engage with you and give you the attention you want and deserve.

Best, Frankie

Acushnet teacher honored for Civic Education

Press Release

Karen Bentley, an eighth grade civics teacher at Albert F. Ford Middle School in Acushnet, has been selected to receive the Don Salvucci Award for Excellence in Promoting Civic Education from the Massachusetts Council for the Social Studies (MCSS).

The award recognizes classroom teachers who emphasize and teach the importance of democratic ideals and responsibilities. It is named in honor of Don Salvucci, a former MCSS president and longtime advocate for innovative and engaging civic education.

Bentley was chosen from a highly competitive field of nominees from across the state. In notifying district leaders of the selection, MCSS described Bentley as "a truly remarkable educator" who stood out for her talents and contributions to students.

Bentley, who is in her third year teaching in Acushnet, is committed to cultivating inquiry and essential civic skills. Her classroom centers on students' ability to ask questions, analyze information, evaluate perspectives and make informed decisions.

"Ms. Bentley has significantly elevated the civic learning experience for students, transforming civics from a required subject into a powerful, meaningful and authentic exploration of democratic ideals, responsibilities and action," Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment Angela Ruggeri wrote in a letter nominating Bentley for the award. "In the spirit of Don Salvucci's legacy, his passion for civic education, inquiry, innovation, and student engagement, Ms. Bentley exemplifies excellence across multiple award criteria, particularly in fostering inquiry, developing democratic values, professional involvement, and student participation in civic activities beyond the classroom."

In her classroom, students regularly engage with foundational documents such as the Constitution and Bill of Rights, explore current civic issues and participate in project-based learning tied to their community.

Each student is provided with laminated civic value cards kept at their desk for daily reference, highlighting values such as equality, liberty, inclusiveness, fairness, courage, truth, diversity, patriotism and freedom.

Bentley also leads students in civic action projects that address real-world issues, including mental health awareness, food insecurity, public safety, intolerance and community engagement. Many of these projects have been showcased at regional and state-level civic events, an uncommon achievement at the middle school level.

Her work extends beyond the classroom through partnerships with organizations such as the Democratic Knowledge Project and the One8 Foundation, as well as collaborations with local businesses and institutions. One notable project involved working with Acushnet Creamery to teach students about ranked-choice voting by allowing students to vote on the name of a new ice cream flavor.

"Karen Bentley has created a classroom where students learn to think critically and take responsibility for their role in the community," said Principal Michelle Silvia. "She brings civic learning to life in ways that are meaningful and lasting, and this recognition is truly well-deserved."

Council for the Social Studies. Superintendent Dr. Paula Bailey, right, and other administrators surprised Bentley with the news on Monday, 2/2/26. Photo Courtesy Acushnet Public Schools.

Bentley will be formally honored at the MCSS Awards Ceremony on March 13 at Old Sturbridge Village, following the organization's Spring Conference.

District leaders praised Bentley for her dedication to preparing students for thoughtful, informed participation in civic life.

"Karen Bentley represents the very best of what civic education should be," said Superintendent Dr. Paula Bailey. "Because of her work in the classroom, students are prepared beyond high school for thoughtful participation in their communities for years to come. We are proud to see her recognized at the state level for this important work."

Sgt. Mike Bouvier retires from Fairhaven PD

By Beth David
Editor

Sergeant Michael Bouvier officially retired from the Fairhaven Police Department and was honored at a ceremony at the station on Friday, 2/6/26. Family, friends, fellow police department personnel and others gathered to see Sgt. Bouvier off into retired life.

"Congratulations Sgt. Mike Bouvier on your retirement from the Fairhaven Police Department after 30 years of dedicated and exemplary service to Fairhaven and the Greater New Bedford community," wrote state Rep. Mark Sylvia on his Facebook page, after attending the event.

"Mike, we wish you a happy, healthy, and long retirement and thank you for your service to the Town of Fairhaven and our Country!!" wrote the Fairhaven Police Department on its Facebook page.

At the Select Board meeting on 2/9/6, Town Administrator, Keith Hickey, noted that Sgt. Bouvier dedicated 30 years of "distinguished service" to the Fairhaven PD, "building a career defined by leadership, mentorship, and community-centered policing."

He said Sgt. Bouvier supervised and led dozens of officers, providing "guidance, accountability, and professional development while setting high standards for performance and integrity."

Sgt. Bouvier also served as the School Resource Officer and created one of the first community outreach units in the region.

"His career reflects a deep commitment to service, collaboration, and improving the quality of life for the Fairhaven community," said Mr. Hickey.

Sgt. Bouvier also served as a Marine, and has dedicated years of service to supporting individuals with disabilities.

"Thank you Sgt. Bouvier for all that you have done for us in order to keep us safe and healthy," wrote Rep. Sylvia. "You will be missed!"

Turkey Trot proceeds distributed to three organizations

Press Release

The Greater New Bedford Track Club (GNBTC) is proud to announce the distribution of $26,500 in charitable donations to local nonprofit organizations following the success of the 2025 Fairhaven Turkey Trot.

Proceeds from the annual Thanksgiving Day 5k road race were awarded to three organizations serving critical needs across the Greater New Bedford community:

- $20,000 to Shepherd's Pantry, supporting food access for individuals and families facing food insecurity
- 5,000 to the Hunger Commission at United Way of Greater New Bedford, helping advance regional hunger relief initiatives
- $1,500 to support Adaptive Physical Education programming at the Southeastern Massachusetts Educational Collaborative (SMEC), expanding opportunities for students with diverse physical needs

Now in its 15th year, the Fairhaven Turkey Trot is one of the area's most popular Thanksgiving traditions, bringing together runners, walkers, volunteers, and spectators in support of local causes. The event is organized entirely by volunteers from the Greater New Bedford Track Club, with all net proceeds reinvested back into the community.

"The Turkey Trot is about more than running — it's about showing up for our neighbors," said Meg Rogers, Greater New Bedford Track Club president. "We're incredibly grateful to the participants, sponsors, volunteers, and Town of Fairhaven who make it possible for us to give back at this level."

Since its inception, the Fairhaven Turkey Trot has generated well over $100,000 for local nonprofits.

For more information about the Greater New Bedford Track Club or the Fairhaven Turkey Trot, visit RunGNBTC.com or FairhavenTurkeyTrot.net.

Ms. Melanson said her work with the Planning Department has nothing to do with the ZBA. She said she does not go to Planning Board meetings,

"I do not tell them what to do," she said, adding that what happens in the PB has nothing to do with her, she just helps with giving direction when applications come in.

The board voted to appoint Ms. Melanson to the ZBA as an Associate member, with Mr. Murphy, Mr. Saunders, and Mr. Silvia voting "yes"; and Mr. Romano, and Natalie Mello voting "no."

The board also voted to appoint Bob Espindola to the Open Space and Recreation Committee.

Mr. Silvia said he was "a little bit torn with this" because in a previous meeting, Mr. Espindola had asked the board not to appoint Patrick Carr and Ms. Melanson because of the investigation into the Timothy-Hiller project, and they will be interviewed.

Mr. Silvia said more people are being interviewed, and Mr. Espindola submitted 14 names, including Mr. Silvia's. He said he was open to that.

"But I think Mr. Espindola should be part of the investigation, also, because I know there's things that he's done that aren't correct," said Mr. Silvia. "So I'm kind of uncomfortable with appointing him to this until the investigation is done."

He then sat back and stopped speaking, and Mr. Romano raised his hand to the chair to be recognized.

"So where was that concern a minute ago with Ms. Melanson," said Mr. Romano. "Or two weeks ago with Mr. Carr."

Mr. Silvia said he did not get to finish his thought.

"I'm not the type of person you are," said Mr. Silvia to Mr. Romano. "I'm not going to hold it against him."

He said he would vote for the appointment, but just wanted it to be known that Mr. Espindola should be interviewed, too.

"If it's good for one, it's good for the other," said Mr. Silvia. "But I will vote positive for him because I don't hold things against people like that, which seems like you do."

The board voted unanimously to appoint Mr. Espindola to the committee.

In other business the board:

- Approved the use of Hoppy's Landing for parking with no fees for the West Island 5K on Sunday, 4/26/26.
- Approved a One Day Beer and Wine License for the Buzzards Bay Coalition Swim on Saturday, 6/20/26.
- Appointed Suzanne Bellanger to the Belonging Committee.

The board also held two executive sessions. One was a joint meeting with the Planning board to review minutes from eight PB meetings dating back to 2022 for possible release. The board did not make an announcement about releasing the minutes. The other was to discuss Civil Service.

collaboratively, and guided by a vision for sustaining Fairhaven as a vibrant community and wonderful place to raise a family.

I am so happy to call Fairhaven home. Just last week, my increasingly low-riding 2011 Toyota Camry got caught on a snow pile at Route 6 and Adams Street, and before I could even get a back-and-forth rock going, two people had jumped out of their cars with shovels to help dig out. I was so

Press Release

Our town needs fresh voices, new ideas, and leadership that makes smart choices today to secure our future. I'm running for Select Board because I want to help make sure the decisions we face are debated thoroughly, civilly, and are guided by a vision for sustaining Fairhaven as a vibrant community and wonderful place to raise a family.

glad my kids were in the back seat to see what our community is all about.

I've worked hard to give back. I currently serve on the Fairhaven Planning Board, I'm a liaison to the Economic Development Committee, and I'm a member of the Livable Streets Committee. I'm a founding member of Southcoast Places for People, a cause that's taken on increased urgency with a wave of people killed on Route 6 over the last year. I've also volunteered on the New Bedford Science Café's steering committee, as a trail steward with Buzzards Bay Coalition, as an event volunteer with the South Coast LGBTQ+ Network, and as a coach with Mariner Soccer. And I'm currently communications director at Partners In Democracy, a Boston-based nonprofit working across party lines to make sure everyone is heard, our government is responsive, and our representatives are accountable.

It's a time of hope for Fairhaven. Brand new commuter rail service right across the harbor saw ridership surge 33% in its second year. We've had a new series of outdoor events draw thousands of people to town center. Restaurants like Hanami Tea House, Saffron by the Sea, Sail House Tavern, and SoCo Tavern have opened their doors. And just over the horizon, Big Y could bring a new, locally-owned grocery store.

But we also face challenges, the biggest being our town budget. To ensure long-term sustainability, we need to loosen some of the regulations that have hurt our growth. Can you believe Fairhaven is actually home to fewer people now than it was in 1970? Thanks to unnecessarily big lot sizes, frontages, setbacks, and other onerous restrictions on growth, much of our town center would be illegal to build today. We should reform our bylaws to encourage new housing and small businesses that fit with the historic character of our existing neighborhoods.

In the coming months, I'll be out asking for your vote on June 9, holding events and joining meetings in every corner of Fairhaven, and I hope you'll come say hello. To get the details, follow my campaign on Facebook — just search Miles Grant for Select Board.
